MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 319.

Mr. PALMER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

Resolved, That the Judiciary General Committee be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 319, File Folio of the Senate 1531.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the title of the bill for information.

The Clerk read the title of the bill as follows:

An Act to regulate the taking of private property for municipal or puolic purposes and relating to the plotting of streets avenues parkways and parks upon the public plan of any city borough or township and the establishment of grades therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. W. H WILSON Mr. Speaker. I think if the members of the House understand this resolution they will not support it. The bill which the resolution desires to have placed upon the calendar, is Senate Bill No. 319, "An Act to regulate the taking of private property for municipal or public purposes and relating to the plotting of streets avenues parkways and parks upon the public plan of any city borough or township and the establishment of grades therefor."

This bill together with another bill,—a Senate bill—and dealing with the same subject matter, was before the Judiciary General Committee and we had at least four or five public hearings upon the two bills. The bill before the House, referred to in the resolution, is a bill which is Statewide in its character. The purpose of the bill was to correct what was termed a hardship upon property owners, particularly in Philadelphia, where the city having in view large improvements would place upon, or plot upon the city plan, certain properties and then those properties would not be taken for some considerable time and the property owners would thereby be deprived of the right to sell and so on.

Now, in the City of Philadelphia, we are confronted with this condition. We have a parkway, or boulevard there, plotted upon the city plan. We also have property taken for the purpose of the removal of grade crossings. The City of Philadelphia is under an agreement with all of the large railroad companies having grade crossings in the City of Philadelphia for the abolition of those grade crossings entailing an expenditure of some twelve millions of dollars, and the railroad companies have agreed to pay one-half that sum and the City of Philadelphia has agreed to pay the other half. The bill, No. 319, would abrogate the contract between the railroad companies and the City of Philadelphia and would set aside that vast improvement and would cast the entire burden upon the city. The sub-committee which had both these bills under consideration received a letter from the Vice-President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to that effect, if this bill were passed it would abrogate that agreement with them. Stand by this bill; the Jenkins bill deals with the same subject matter. It applies only to parkway proposition and accomplishes the same purpose as is intended in this bill, 319. But because it does not interfere with the abolition of the grade crossings, when the sponsor of the present bill appeared before the sub-committee of the Judiciary General Committee he expressed himself as being absolutely satisfied with the provisions of the bill but regretted that it did not bear his name; it was satisfactory to the sponsor and the only objection he had to the Jenkins Bill was this. The interests that are back of this bill are not satisfied with the Jenkins Bill. One of the objections to the Jenkins Bill is that it is not state-wide. The Jenkins Bill applies only to cities of the first class. I therefore ask you to vote down this motion.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't live in the City of Philadelphia, but my friend says it is state-wide. I will state to the House that the reason this bill is here is because at the present time there is a large amount of property in the City of Philadelphia that has been taken into this parkway proposition. Nobody knows when that parkway proposition is going to reach a point to begin condemning property and pay them for their holding. That is the question. This bill only provides that if they don't condemn within the year, then the property ought to be subject to the control of the property holder or the owner. Now, the conditions today in Philadelphia are that they are working under a great hardship. If Philadelphia wants to condemn this property within the next year and pay the property holder that is practically all the bill does. In my judgment the bill ought to come out at least and be considered before the House. I do think it is unfair to keep a bill of such vital importance in committee, and then compare it with the Jenkins bill after getting out this bill and see how far we agree with our friend from Philadelphia. If the House gets this bill on the floor and thinks that the Jenkins bill is better than it is then it ought to be defeated and if the Jenkins bill is not the better bill then it should be defeated. Defeat one and pass the other. I can see nothing in opposition to placing this bill on the calendar. Nobody is committed to its passage. Surely this is a bill that ought to go on the calendar so that we can take out that which is the best of it and each member can go on his own judgment. I cannot understand why the gentleman from Philadelphia objects to this bill going on the calendar. The House realizes the importance of the bill and I really think that the House should have the bill on the calendar. The members of this House want to do what they can for the citizens of Philadelphia. They know that it is true as I am telling you that a vast amount of property is now tied up in this condition. They ought to be paid or relieved; it means a terrible hardship to some and that is one reason if it is the only one why this bill should go on the calendar. I am surprised that my friend from Philadelphia is opposed to letting a bill of that character go on the calendar.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the Jenkins bill and this bill disagree in some particular instances. The Jenkins bill lacks a feature in assessment of benefits. All I ask is that this bill be put on the calendar in order to see the relative merits of the two bills and let the members of the House judge. In the Acts of 1879 and 1881 and the supplements these buildings along the parkway under ordinances passed by the City Councils and there these buildings stay without any allowance to be improved or to sell the same and they are tied up until the city councils see fit to take action. I ask the gentlemen here to give the men who own buildings along these streets a chance to sell the property they now have if they desire to do so.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I have learned something here tonight that I never knew before. There is no necessity for naming committees on legislation if you follow the argument of the gentleman from Delaware that every bill should be placed on the calendar. That is not my understanding of committee work. It is that where several bills dealing with the same subject matter are presented to that committee that it is the purpose of that committee and the duty of that committee in order that they may conserve the time of the House to report out that bill which should be reported out and to keep in that bill which should be kept in. These two bills deal with the same subject matter. There were at least three or four public hearings of these measure. At the last hearing upon them the sponsor of the bill frankly stated that he was satisfied with the provisions of the Jenkins bill and that his only regret was that it didn't bear his name as sponsor. The Jenkins bill which is on the calendar limits the time to three years; he was satisfied with that three years from the time of plotting when the property should be taken and paid for by the city. The Jenkins bill only applies to the City of Philadelphia; the other bill applies to the entire State. We took the purpose of the sponsor of the 319 bill to make it apply to the whole State. So we have the same matter agreed to by all the parties. The time of this House has been taken up almost entirely tonight with motions of this character. If this is going to be persisted in we will have a calendar here that we cannot get rid of. As the sponsor and the interests he represents are taken care of in the bill why waste the time of this House on this matter?

On the question,

Will the House discharge the Judiciary General Committee from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 319?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Gans and Mr. Baldwin and were as follows:

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman's motion is out of order as we have already passed that order of business.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1084, File Folio 6565, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act entitled "An Act to provide for the better protection of life and property by the examination and licensing of engineers having charge of steam boilers steam engines and appliances connected therewith in cities of the second and third class of this Commonwealth and providing penalties for violation" approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five with the amendments thereto was defeated be reconsidered for the purpose of offering amendments.

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 1 by adding at the end thereof the following: "insofar as it applies to cities of the third class"

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 967, File Folio 8395, on page 27 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 967, entitled:

An Act to provide for the erection maintenance and regulation of public morgues in every county of this Commonwealth having a population of at least one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appear to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, 78 voting in the affirmative and 56 in the negative.

And the question was determined in the affirmative, and the bill was agreed to on third reading.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, just a word by way of explanation in regard to this bill. This bill pertains to counties having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand and upwards. It provides that the county commissioners may erect a morgue to receive therein bodies on which it is necessary to hold an inquest. It provides also that in counties having more than one third class city they may erect a morgue in each of the third class cities therein. This act is only discretionary and not mandatory, and we ask you to pass the bill at this time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1109, entitled:

An Act relating to plants used for medicinal purposes and fixing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THEODORE CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The sponsor of this bill, Mr. Alexander, is not in the House.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, perhaps I can explain this bil The bill relates to Ginseng; it takes about five years to grow a crop. It usually is grown in an enclosure, slatted over to get a shaded condition, to resemble that of the woods. Now, very often men spend these five years in growing a crop, when a man will break in just about the time he is due to harvest a crop and gets away with about five or six hundred dollars worth of his crop in a night. The present legislation is totally inadequate and this is undertaking to provide a penalty commensurate with the crime. It is a very meritorious bill and there should be no question about it.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 656, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand six hundred and twenty-three of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a Public School system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by section two of an act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which is shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith' "

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions.

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill pertains to the School Code. In 1911 the School Code provided inter alia that the auditors should be paid the sum of five dollars a day. In 1913 this part of the school code was repealed and it provided that the school board might fix the compensation of the auditor, with this result: that where the school auditors sur-charged the school treasurer, the school boards refused to pay anything to the school auditors until after they had taken off the amount of the sur-charge, then they would fix their compensation at or above the amount originally provided in the school code. This act provides that court shall fix the compensation for the school auditors, which shall not exceed the sum of five dollars per day.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1072, entitled:

An Act creating a State Board of Accounts providing for their expenses and defining the powers and duties thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, this is a time when it seems to me that this House should be very careful as to the various bills they are voting on. This carries with it a twenty thousand dollar salary list and it seems to me at this time and under the present conditions of this State as has been detailed here so many times that this is a bill that should be carefully considered. I ask you, gentlemen, to vote "no" on this bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WHITTEN. Mr. Speaker, because of the absence of the sponsor of this bill, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1392, entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act relating to roads providing for the supervision construction maintenance and repair of township roads relating to road tax and providing penalties for the violation thereof"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1219 (Senate Bill No. 113), as follows:

An Act further supplementing an act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act providing for the erection by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of a statue in memory of General George Gordon Meade in the city of Washington and making an appropriation therefor" and making a further appropriation

Whereas Under acts approved June fourteen one thousand nine hundred and eleven and May two one thousand nine hundred and thirteen the Legislature of Pennsylvania appropriated the sum of thirty thousand dollars for the erection of a statue or memorial to the memory of Major General George Gordon Meade a former citizen of Pennsylvania who commanded the army of the Potomac from Gettysburg to Appomattox with an unbroken line of Union victories and

Whereas Since that amount was appropriated (evidently intended simply for an equestrian statue of General Meade upon an isolated location somewhere in the nation's capitol) the Commission of Fine Arts of Washington District of Columbia has officially designated as a site for the proposed statue or memorial a location within the lines of the Botanic Garden and approximately within two hundred feet of the monument now being erected to the memory of General U. S. Grant costing two hundred and fifty thousand dollars and

Whereas The amount thus appropriated being wholly inadequate for the erection of a statue or memorial to General Meade upon the site designated by the Commission of Fine Arts of Washington District of Columbia and commensurate with his services to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Nation therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the further sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the following purposes namely

For the purpose of securing a site for the location of the proposed statue or memorial of General George Gordon Meade provided for in the act to which this is a supplement and for the purpose of constructing the necessary foundation and pedestal and in securing appropriate tablets and designs therefor and for the erection and completion of said statue or memorial

Section 2 The Governor is hereby empowered to make appointments to fill vacancies that may occur on the commission created by the acts to which this is a supplement

RESOLUTION.

Mr. W. H. WILSON offered the following concurrent resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A JOINT COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSIDERING THE SUBJECT OF LEGISLATION AND REPORTING TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY METHODS FOR CURING THE DEFECTS THEREIN NOW EXISTING.

Whereas, The tendency to correct matters of minute detail by legislation has so increased the volume of bills introduced by the Legislature as to make it very difficult to give proper consideration to all proposed legislation, and

Whereas, At the present session, in some instances, several separate bills to amend the same sections of existing laws have been introduced, and

Whereas, At the present session there were introduced a multitude of bills relating to and affecting the government of the several cities, boroughs and townships of the Commonwealth, to which the members of the General Assembly could not give personal attention and these have at each session so increased the legislative duties as to prevent proper consideration of such important legislation.

Section 1 Therefore be it resolved by the House of Representatives (The Senate concurring), That the Presiding Officer of the Senate be and is hereby authorized to appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives be and is hereby authorized to appoint three members who together shall constitute a Joint Committee on Legislation, whose duty it shall be to generally investigate and consider all subjects and matters relating to and affecting the government of cities, boroughs and townships and report to the next General Assembly any plans to carry its suggestions into effect.

Section 2 The members of said Committee shall serve without compensation. They shall be authorized to call upon the Attorney General for legal advice.

Section 3 Said Committee shall meet for organization within three months after their appointment. The Committee shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and other evidence, at any meeting of the committee, and for that purpose may issue subpoenas, signed by the chairman of the committee and cause the same to be served and executed in any part of this Commonwealth; and if any witness shall refuse to testify as to any fact within his knowledge, or to produce any books or papers within his possession or under his control, or shall refuse to appear, the secretary of the committee shall forthwith report the facts relating to such refusal to one of the courts of common pleas of the county wherein such witness resides, and all questions arising upon said refusal shall at once be heard by said court; if the court determines that the testimony or evidence required by such witness is legal and properly competent and ought to be given or produced by him, the said court shall make an order commanding said witness to testify and produce books or papers or both as the case may be, and if such witness shall refuse to testify or to produce books or papers, as aforesaid, in disobedience of such order of the court, then the said court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the county jail of the proper county for contempt.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1213.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 14, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 1213 entitled "An Act providing for the appointment of a Board of Visitors for institutions societies and associations caring for dependent neglected or delinquent children and making it the duty of the said board of visitation to visit all such institutions within this Commonwealth which receive inmates from the respective counties and are in whole or in part supported and managed by the Commonwealth and all institutions societies and associations that are wholly or in part supported and managed by the respective counties or cities boroughs or townships or poor districts of such counties of the Commonwealth and providing for the making of nominations or appointments on such boards of visitation."

This bill intends to direct Boards of Visitors in the several counties how often they shall visit institutions that care for dependent, neglected and delinquent children. The title is general and relates to all institutions of this character in the Commonwealth. The act as passed limits its application to contain counties having a certain population. In other words, title and body of the bill do not agree. It does not provide a method of appointment nor does it provide for appointment to such Boards. The bill is loosely drawn and is so indefiniate that it can produce only confusion and not constructive service.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto, together with the bill, be laid upon the table.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1134.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 13, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 1134 entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred eighty-three entitled 'An Act relative to the eligibility of candidates for the office of district attorney.'"

This bill makes an attorney of one year's practice eligible to election as district attorney. The present law requires a lawyer to be at least two years in practice before he is eligible.

A district attorney is a very important agent. His duties vitally affect the welfare of the people. It is a questionable matter to intrust to one having such slight contact by experience with the machinery of justice to hold an office so important. To lessen the qualifications for this office is a step backward which it is unwise to take.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 586.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 15, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 586, entitled "An Act to amend an act 'To provide for the better collection of collateral inheritance taxes' approved the sixth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven providing for the employment of attorneys and clerks."

This bill gives the register of wills the right to appoint and fix salaries of attorneys in the collection of collateral inheritance taxes, subject to the approval, control and direction of the Attorney General. It also gives the register of wills power to employ and fix the salary of such clerk or clerks as he may deem necessary, and the Auditor General in section 15 is required and directed to pay the salaries of such clerks. This opens the way for a greatly increased cost upon the Commonwealth. Under existing law only two counties—Allegheny and Philadelphia—employ clerks in this manner. This bill would allow all the registers in al the counties to employ and fix salaries. of clerks and mandatorily compel the State to pay the said salaries. It is estimated that this would add about $200,000 to the present cost fo this service. That the register of wills or any other county official should have the power to mandamus the State to pay expenses authorized by him and in the incurring of which the State has no voice is not sound business. It is unwise and unnecessary.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto, together with the bill laid upon the table.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 806.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 14, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 806, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith.'"

This bill changes the phrase "to be placed" to the phrase "to act" in an act relating to safety devices on trains at bituminous coal mines. No one can oppose any attempt to promote the safety of human life in industry. But it sems to me a waste of time and money to attempt to do by a new law what sane and sensible administration under existing law can do and do just as well.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1128.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 15, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 1128 entitled "A Supplement to an act entitled 'An Act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one."

This Bill is by title designated as a supplement to the act of March 7, 1901 (P. L. 20). It really both in effect and in fact amends this act in a very material way. It authorizes cities of the second class to issue bonds for a term of two years instead of a term of five years. It might be construed as an act giving powers to these cities to increase their indebtedness in violation of Act IX, Section 8 of the Constitution. This would open the whole question of the matter to litigation and confusion. If there is one matter above another upon which no reasonable doubt should lie it is the simplicity, the definiteness, the integrity of the fiscal obligations of these municipalities. Under existing law there are easy and reasonable methods by which these cities may negotiate the sale of bonds and safeguard their obligations.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill be laid on the table.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 14, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling House Bill No. 150 entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the police engineering electrical and fire departments in cities of the third class constituting a civil service board in relation thereto providing for an regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said departments and providing a method for fixing compensation of a secretary

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by inserting the following to be known as Section 8. This act shall not apply to cities incorporated prior to the twenty-third day of May, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, by special acts of assembly, which have not accepted the provisions of the act of the twenty-third day of May, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, entitled' 'An Act dividing cities of this State into three classes, regulating the passage of ordinances, providing for contracts for supplies and work of said cities, authorizing the increase of indebtedness, and the creation of a sinking fund to redeem the same, defining and punishing certain offences in all of said cities, and providing for the incorporation and government of the cities of the third class," in the manner prescribed in the fifty-seventh section thereof. Amend by renumbering the following section accordingly.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instruction of the House.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, line 6, after the word "in" strike out the word "the" and insert in lieu thereof "any full paid."

Section 5, line 12, beginning with the word "And" strike out all to the end of the section.

Page 5, remove the enclosing bracket before "Section 8"

Renumber the following section accordingly:

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments as read?

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The House hears objection.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House go into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be prepared for final passage.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives,

Whereas, On April twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen the City of Scranton will have completed the first half century of its existence as a city; and

Whereas, The wonderful strides that Scranton has made as a progressive and modern city of the highest type have elicited the greatest admiration on the part, not alone of the citizens of Pennsylvania, but also the citizens of the entire nations; and

Whereas, The City of Scranton is making preparations to celebrate in a fitting way its semi-centennial; and

Whereas, It is eminently proper that the citizens of Pennsylvania should show their recognition of the high qualities of the citizens of Scranton, of their boundless civic pride and of their great loyalty to the Keystone State; therefore,

Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the medium of the General Assembly, views with pride its third largest city, and it holds in full admiration and esteem the high qualities of the citizens of such city and calls upon the citizens of Pennsylvania to make earnest endeavor to participate so far as practicable in the coming celebration of the semi-centennial of the City of Scranton so far as thus to evince by actual deeds the sentiments that we all cherish towards that city.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from Committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE from the Committee on Municipal Affairs reported as committed, the following resolution:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A JOINT COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSIDERING THE SUBJECT OF LEGISLATION AND REPORTING TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY METHODS FOR CURING THE DEFECTS THEREIN NOW EXISTING.

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1915.

Whereas, The tendency to correct matters of minute detail by legislation has so increased the volume of bills introduced by the Legislature as to make it very difficult to give proper consideration to all proposed legislation, and,

Whereas, At the present session, in some instances several separate bills to amend the same sections of existing laws have been introduced, and,

Whereas, At the present session there were introduced a multitude of bills relating to and affecting the government of the several cities, boroughs and townships of the Commonwealth, to which the members of the General Assembly could not give personal attention and those have at each session so increased the legislative duties as to prevent proper consideration of such important legislation.

Section 1. Therefore, Be it resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring) That the Presiding Officer of the Senate be and is hereby authorized to appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives be and is hereby authorized to appoint three members who together shall constitute a joint Committee on Legislation, whose duty it shall be to generally investigate and consider all subjects and matters relating to and affecting the government of cities, boroughs and townships and report to the next General Assembly any plans to carry its suggestions into effect.

Section 2. The members of said Committee shall serve without compensation. They shall be authorized to call upon the Attorney General for legal advice.

Section 3. Said Committee shall meet for organization within three months after their appointment. The Committee shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and other evidence, at any meeting of the Committee, and for that purpose may issue subpoenas, signed by the Chairman of the Committee, and cause the same to be served and executed in any part of this Commonwealth; and if any witness shall refuse to testify as to any fact within his knowledge or to produce any books or papers within his possession or under his control, or shall refuse to appear, the Secretary of the Committee shall forthwith report the facts relating to such refusal to one of the Courts of Common Pleas of the County wherein such witness resides, and all questions arising upon said refusal shall at once be heard by said Court; if the Court determines that the testimony or evidence required by such witnesses is legal and properly competent and ought to be given or produced by him, the said Court shall make an order commanding said witness to testify and produce books or papers or both as the case may be, and if such witness shall refuse to testify or to produce books or papers, as aforesaid, in disobedience of such order of the Court, then the said Court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the county jail of the proper county for contempt.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 be suspended in order to consider at this time the resolution just reported.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was twice read.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I would like to have some explanation concerning this. I do not know anything about this resolution. It is going into the cities, boroughs and townships of the Commonwealth. I do not know the object of this resolution and I would like to have some information before I vote on it.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, there came a lot of bills, largely recommendations from the city administration of Philadelphia in reference to five year contracts on all contract work for light, electric lighting, gas light, gasoline lighting, garbage collection, street cleaning, and all other annual contracts to be let there, and the House and Senate did not seem willing, or at least did not pass these bills, and for the pupose of having an intelligent investigation of what would be good and what would not be good for the cities of this Commonwealth, this resolution was prepared, and passed through the House and is now here in the hands of the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTION APPOINTING COMMISSION TO REVISE AND CODIFY THE LAWS RELATING TO THE MINING OF ANTHRACITE COAL.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER, offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follsow:

In the Senate, May 18, 1915.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) that the Governor is authorized to appoint a commission of three citizens to revise and codify the laws relating to the mining of anthracite coal. The Governor shall designate who shall be chairman of said commission. The commissioners appointed shall serve without compensation. The commission may call into consultaiton any persons, who may be able to give information that will assist in the work of codification and revision and shall make a full report in writing of its deliberations, together with such recommendations as it may deem proper, to the next General Assembly.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 be suspended in order to consider at this time the resolution just read.

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, I would like to have a word on this bill. This bill treats of a small piece of road running south from the battlefield of Gettysburg to the Maryland State line about four miles and a little over in length, and it is one of the very few road bills that have been put through this session. It is thought to make it part of the national highway running from Maryland to Pennsylvania and is a matter of very small financial consideration.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. President, I voted no.

On the question?

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I would like to know what the Senator's purpose is in moving to reconsider this bill, after we have had it before the Senate and defeated it.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, my purpose is this: when I voted on this bill I voted under a misapprehension.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I want to state, for the benefit of the members of the Senate. that this is the most practical bill that I have ever had knowledge of concerning the dog industry and the sheep industry. I have no interest in it whatever more than any farmer has. It is the product of the thought of one of the foremost sheep breeders in Washington county, a county which a few years ago had more sheep within its borders than any other county in the Union, 472,000 head, and at present I do not believe it has 75,000 head, the cause of it being to a great extent due to the ravages of dogs.

In my own county we lost practically 1,156 head of sheep during the last year, and in Washington county, I think, a little over 4,000. Now I believe this is a practical bill. It protects the dog, and it protects the sheep breeder. I believe it will be acceptable to all of the sheep breeders of the State and I know that there is but little opposition to it from the men who have these valuable kennels of dogs. It is the only bill of this kind that we can pass, and I shall be very glad, and I believe that the people in my district would be very grateful to this Senate, if they would reconsider this bill and pass it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING SETTLEMENT OF COMMONWEALTH VS. HARMONY SOCIETY.

He also presented for concurrence extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

Whereas, at No. 275 of June Term, 1910, the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, did, on the suggestion of the Commonwealth at the relation of the then Attorney General, Honorable M. Hampton Todd, issue its writ of quo warranto directed to the late religious society known as the Harmony Society, Susie C. Duss, its last elected trustee, John S. Duss, de facto trustee, and the said Susie C. Duss, John S. Duss and Franz Gillman, individually, and did cause said writ to be served on the Beaver County Land Company, the Liberty Land Company and the Commonwealth Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Trustee:

And Whereas, answers have been filed by several of the said defendants and a replication has been filed by the Commonwealth;

And Whereas, by the said pleadings it appears that it is alleged by the Commonwealth that the said Harmony Society was a religious society organized in the year 1805, and which acquired property in Beaver county in the years 1824 and 1825 and at other times thereafter, which property was held for religious uses; and that said society at different times conveyed its real property to The Union Company, the Beaver County Land Company and thousands of different persons, and that said real property was situate not only in Beaver county but in Allegheny county, Butler county and Warren county and other counties of this Commonwealth; that the said The Union Company had conveyed some twenty-five hundred acres of land formerly occupied by said society to the Liberty Land Company in consideration of the delivery of twenty-five hundred Liberty Land Company's Purchase Money Mortgage Bonds, of the par value of $1,000.00 each, that the said society had been dissolved and ceased to exist, and that its assets had been in fact illegally distributed among the members of said society and others, and that of right all the property of said society, real or personal, on its dissolution or ceasing to exist had vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

And Whereas, it was alleged by certain of the defendants that said society was not a religious society but a trading or business association and did not hold any of its property, real or personal, for religious or charitable uses or purposes; and that its members had at any time the right to dissolve the said society and divide its effects among themselves, and that they had so done;

And Whereas, it appears that the pendency of the said litigation directly or indirectly affects or has a tendency to cast a cloud on many titles to real estate in Beaver county and other counties of this Commonwealth where ever said society at any time since 1805 owned and conveyed real property, and said litigation has a tendency to embarrass thousands of owners of small homes in mortgaging or conveying the same;

And whereas, it appears that of the purchase money bonds of said Liberty Land Company issued as aforesaid, only ten hundred and seventy-six (1076) remain outstanding, the residue having been cancelled or retired; and that of the said outstanding bonds one hundred and ninety-two (192) are owned by innocent third parties, at no time members of said society, and that except as to sixty-seven (67) of said bonds, former members of said society have pledged all of said bonds owned by them to secure certain indebtedness of themselves or of said society, aggregating two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, and that the interest coupons on said bonds have not been paid for the past six years;

And whereas, it appears that the stock of said Beaver County Land Company is owned by former members of said society except as to some two (2) shares thereof, and that said stock has been pledged to secure said indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, or a portion thereof, and that said Beaver County Land Company is seized in fee, as appears by the recorded instruments, of about five (5) acres, more or less, of land situate in the former Village of Economy, Pa., now the Borough of Ambridge, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, and also of certain scattered lots located in the City of Beaver Falls and the adjacent territory in Beaver County, Pennsylvania, the whole of which is real estate of said Beaver County Land Company and assessed in 1915, for the purpose of local taxation at an amount not exceeding ninety-seven thousand two hundred forty-four ($97,244.00) dollars; and that said corporation owes debts exceeding one hundred seventy thousand ($170,000.00) dollars;

And whereas, counsel representing the Commonwealth and the defendants, after many conferences and consideration of the matter involved, have agreed upon terms of settlement and compromise of said litigation in nowise prejudicing the positions assumed by the defendants in said pleading and not intended by them to recognize or admit any right of the Commonwealth, but only to put an end to protracted litigation and quiet title to real and personal property wherever situate that was at any time held by or for said society. By said agreement it is proposed to convey in fee simple absolutely to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania those two certain parcels of land both situate in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, County of Beaver and Commonwealth aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

(1)—All that certain parcel commonly known as the "Great House Block," bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of the within-described parcel, (said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the south line of Fourteenth Street with the west line of Church Street); thence along the west line of Church Street, south no degrees 29' east, three hundred and ninety-seven hundredths (300.97) feet to a point at the corner of Church and Thirteenth Streets; thence along the north line of Thirteenth Street S. 88 degrees 54' west, three hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (398.85 feet to a point at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Ohioview Avenue; thence along the east line of Ohioview Avenue, N. O. degrees 41' 38" W., three hundred one and ninety-three hundredths (301.93) feet to a point at the corner of Ohioview Avenue; thence along the south line of Fourteenth Street N. 89 degrees 02' 30" E., three hundred ninety-nine and ninety-six hundredths (399.96) feet to a point at the place of beginning.

(2)—All that certain parcel, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" block, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the southwest corner of said block, being the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Fourteenth Street with the easterly line of Ohioview Avenue; thence by said northerly line of Fourteenth Street N. 89 degrees 02' 30" E., Four hundred and eighteen hundreds (400.18) feet to a point at corner of Church and Fourteenth Streets; thence by Church Street N. O. degrees 29' West, One hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundreds (183.71) feet to a point; thence S. 89 degrees 06' 30" W., Four hundred and eighty-eight hundredths (400.88) feet to a point on east line of Ohioview Avenue; and thence by Ohioview Avenue, S. O. degrees 41' 38" E., One hundred eighty-four and nineteen hundredths (184.19) feet, to the place of beginning.

Reserving, however, the right of possession to the Beaver County Land Company, its successors and assigns, until January 1st, 1917, of the former music hall and three wine cellars and buildings connected therewith of the said society, in which have been stored certain furnishings and supplies that were of said society, which said buildings on said portion, the possession of which is intended to be reserved for the said period, are erected upon all that certain parcel, piece or lot of land in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" Block, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the southeast corner of the within-described parcels,—(said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the west line of Church Street with the north line of Fourteenth Street); thence along the north line of Fourteenth Street S. 89 degrees 02' 30" W., Two hundred forty (240) feet to a point; thence at right angles to Fourteenth Street, N. O. degrees 57' 30" W., One hundred eighty-four (184) feet to a point; thence N. 89 degrees 06' 30" E., Two hundred forty-one and fifty-one hundredths (241.51) feet to a point in the west line of Church Street; thence by said west line S. O. degrees 29' E., One hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point, at the place of beginning.

And by said agreement it is further proposed to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars cash forthwith upon the conclusion of the proposed settlement and the entry of the Judgment and the Order or Decree hereinafter mentioned, and to pay the record costs of said proceeding.

And Whereas, in the opinion of the Attorney General, the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, and of counsel for the Commonwealth in said litigation, it is for the best interest of the Commonwealth, both in its corporate capacity and as custodians of the welfare of its citizens, that said settlement should be made and that the title to all of said real and personal property that was of said society should be quieted and settled insofar as relates to the said claim of the Commonwealth;

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Attorney General, the Auditor General and that State Treasurer be and they are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make said settlement and compromise in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth, and to receive for the Commonwealth the deed for said described real property with the reservation of possession as aforesaid as to a portion thereof, and to receive for the Commonwealth the said sum of money; and thereupon there is hereby released to the said defendants, or parties upon which said writ was served, and to each and every one of them, their heirs, grantees and assigns, all the real and personal property that was of the Harmony Society, at any time, and not included in the property to be conveyed to the Commonwealth under the terms of such settlement, and the said Attorney General, Auditor General and State Treasurer are authorized to apply to the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county to have entered in said litigation such Judgment, Order and Decree as will effectually conclude all litigation, and forever extinguish any and all title or claim which might or could be asserted by or through the Commonwealth, except tax claims, if any, against all the property, real or personal, of said Society held by the parties to said suit or served with said writ or by any person holding, through or under them or said society.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that rule 39 be suspended in order to consider at this time the resolution just read.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, in the absence of Senator Thompson, from Beaver, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. SALUS Mr President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL NO. 755.

He also returned to the Senate Senate Bill No. 755, entitled:

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1801 (House Bill No. 1040), bill on third reading postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act relating to building and loan associations and the solicitors officers directors and stockholders thereof be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RETURNING TO GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH ALL THE NOMINATIONS RECALLED BY HIM ON APRIL 15 AND MAY 17.

Mr. CROW offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, May 18, 1915.

Whereas, on April 15, 1915, Governor Brumbaugh presented a communication to the Senate, recalling the nominations for Members of the Public Service Commission made by his predecessor, Governor Tener, on January 5, 1915, and

Whereas, On May 17, 1915, Governor Brumbaugh presented another communication to the Senate, recalling all the other nominations made by Governor Tener on January 5, 1915, which had not been acted upon by the Senate, therefore,

Not abating the rights or prerogatives of the Senate in the premises, but believing it to be the sense of the Senate that the return of these nominations would effect a closer and more harmonious relation between the Chief Executive and the officers who will fill said positions, the Committee on Executive Nominations recommends that out of courtesy to the Governor's wishes, all of the said nominations be returned to His Excellency as he has requested, and submits and recommends the following resolution for the approval of the Senate:

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Senate be directed to return to Governor Brumbaugh the nominations herein referred to.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 be suspended in order to consider at this time the resolution just read.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. CROW,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor to be referred to committee and when reported from committee to lie on the table one day, be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations just read and all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. CROW,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SALUS, from the Committee on Elections, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 757, entitled:

An Act authorizing political parties of this Commonwealth to make nominations and elect party officers by the Convention Method; Providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions, and of certain party officers including State Committeemen, directing the payment by and the several counties of certain expenses of the election authorizing the State Committee of a political party and the county committee of a political party to determine by resolution the method of making its nominations for office and election its party officers, to make and to alter, amend and revoke party rules, providing penalties for the violations of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein, providing for the election of delegates and county committeemen, prescribing the qualifications of voters at the primaries.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 619 (House Bill No. 545), bill on final passage, entitled:

An Act to supervise the operation of fire insurance rate-making bureaus and providing for their examination by the Insurance Commissioner prohibiting discrimination in fixing and collecting fire insurance rates requiring companies to maintain and co-operate in maintaining and operating rate making bureaus requiring inspection and survey by such bureaus of all risks specifically rated and regulating agreements between companies or other insurers with respect to fixing the collecting fire insurance rates and repealing existing laws be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, as I understand it this is one of the Commission Bills, and unless the Senator from Philadelphia has some very good reason for his motion, I would most emphatically object to it. I sincerely hope it will not prevail. The last Legislature appointed a commission to study the question of fire insurance, and as a result of that investigation and exhaustive study, this bill was prepared by Mr. Baldwin, of the House, who was the Chairman of the Commission. I understand that it covers the subject thoroughly and meets a lot of long felt wants in that line of business, and I sincerely hope that motion will not prevail.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, my purpose in making this motion is that the bill may be disposed of, because I have been requested by a large number of my constituents who are in the insurance business to take this step. It is said that this bill is a bill aimed at preventing competition in fire insurance rates. It is a bill intended to eliminate the small companies, and will, in its effect increase the cost of insurance. It tends to create, or perpetuate, what is really an insurance trust. These are the views of my constituents in this matter, and it is on their account that I take this move.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I am authorized by Mr. Baldwin, who is an expert on insurance, to say that the charge made by the Senator from Philadelphia, as representing his clientle, is absolutely without foundation. It in no manner or form whatever creates anything in the nature of an insurance trust, and works no discrimination against any of the small insurance companies.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1019, bill on third reading postponed for the present, on page 11 of the calendar of May 11, entitled:

An Act relative to the sale in bulk of the whole or a large part of a stock of merchandise and fixtures or merchandise or fixtures not in the ordinary course of business providing certain requirements therefor imposing certain duties upon the seller and making their violation a misdemeanor

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1019, entitled:

An Act relative to the sale in bulk of the whole or a large part of a stock of merchandise and fixtures or merchandise or fixtures not in the ordinary course of business providing certain requirements therefor imposing certain duties upon the seller and making their violation a misdemeanor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended.

SENATE BILL NO. 934 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS.

He also returned to the Senate Senate Bill No. 934, entitled:

An Act providing a method of establishing title to land acquired at a sale for unpaid taxes or municipal claims with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

In section 2, in line 10, by inserting after the word "sale" the following words "and delivery of sheriff's deed."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49.

Any name not in use by an existing association may be adopted but must clearly designate the object and purpose of the association

Section 3 The subscribers to said articles of agreement shall acknowledge the same before some person empowered to take acknowledgments of deeds and forward the same in duplicate to the Commissioner of Insurance who shall certify in duplicate to the Governor whether all of the requirements hereof have been complied with Whereupon the Governor shall in case he approves the application endorse his approval thereon in duplicate and cause letters patent to issue creating the subscribers and their associates a body corporate under the name designated in said articles but such associations shall not engage in business until the further provisions of this Act have been complied with

Section 4 Such association shall not begin to issue policies until a list of the suscribers with the number of employes of each together with such other information as the Commissioner of Insurance may require shall have been filed at the Insurance Department nor until the president and secretary of the association shall have certified under oath that every subscription in the list so filed is genuine and made with an agreement of all the subscribers that they will take the policies subscribed for within thirty days of the granting of a license by the Commissioner of Insurance

Section 5 Upon the filing of the certificate provided for in the preceding section the Commissioner of Insurance shall make such investigations as he may deem proper and if his findings warrant it grant a license to the association to issue policies

Section 6 Charters under this act may be perputual or limited in time as the articles of agreement shall specify

Section 7 Such associations shall have the power to make by-laws for the government of its officers and the conduct of its affairs and the same to alter and amend and adopt a common seal

Section 8 The annual meeting for the election of directors shall be held at such time in the month of January as the by-laws of the association may direct Of the time and place of said meeting at least thirty days' previous written or printed notice shall be given to the subscribers or such notice may be given by publication not less than three times in at least two daily or weekly newspapers published in the city or county wherein the association has its principal office and in the legal periodical if any designated by the rules of court of the proper county for the publication of legal notices Subscribers who during the preceding calendar year have paid into the treasury of the association premiums amounting to more than one-half of the total premiums received by it during that year shall constitute a quorum At such annual meeting the subscribers shall elect by ballot from their own number not less than five directors a majority of whom shall be residents of this Commonwealth to serve for at least one year and until their successors are duly chosen Provided however that such association may provide in its by-laws for the division of its board of directors into two three or four classes and for the election thereof at its annual meetings in such manner that the members of one class only shall retire and their successors be chosen each year Vacancies may be filled by election by the board until the next annual meeting in the choice of directors and in all meetings of the association each subscriber shall be entitled to one vote for every one hundred dollars or any fracton thereof paid by him in premiums into the treasury of the association during the preceding calendar year Subscribers may vote by proxy and the record of all votes shall be made by the secretary and shall show whether the same were cast in person or by proxy and shall be evidence of all such elections Not less than three directors shall constitute a quorum The directors shall annually choose by ballot a president who shall be a member of the board a secretary a treasurer who may also be either the president or secretary and such other officers as the by-laws may provide and they shall fix the salaries of the president and secretary as well as the salaries or compensation of such other officers and agents as the by-laws prescribe Vacancies in any office may be filled by the directors or by the subscribers as the by-laws shall prescribe

Section 9 Policies of Insurance issued by any such association may be made either with or without the seal thereof and they shall be signed by the president or such other officers as may be designated by the directors for that purpose and attested by the secretary

Section 10 If at any time the number of subscribers or the number of the subscribers' employes within the State falls below the minimum stated in section one hereof no further policies shall be issued until the total number of subscribers and the total number of employers whose employes within the State are not less than such minimums

Section 11 The board of directors shall be entitled to inspect the plant work-room shop farm or premises of any subscriber and for such purpose to appoint inspectors who shall have free access to all such premises during the regular working hours and the board of directors shall likewise from time to time be entitled to examine by their auditor or other agent the books records and payrolls of any subscriber for the purposes of determining the amount of premium chargable to such subscriber

The board of directors shall make reasonable rules and regulations for the prevention of injuries upon the premises of subscribers and they may refuse to insure or may terminate the insurance of any subscriber who refuses to permit such examination or disregards such rules or regulation and forfeit one-half of the unearned premiums previously paid by him but such termination of the insurance of any subscriber shall not release him from liability for the payment of assessments then or thereafter made by the board of directors to make up deficiencies existing at the termination of his insurance

Section 12 Every subscriber to such association shall be under a contingent mutual liability for the payment of losses and expenses in excess of the cash funds of the association to an amount equal to the premium paid by him during the current year

Section 13 The board of directors shall determine the amount of the premiums which the subscribers of the association shall pay for their insurance in accordance with the nature of the business in which such subscribers are engaged and the probable risk of injury to their employes under existing conditions and they shall fix premiums at such amounts as in their judgment subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Insurance shall be sufficient to enable the association to create and maintain the surplus provided in section fourteen of this act and to pay to its subscribers all sums which may become due and payable to their employes under the provisions of said article three of said Act and also the expenses of conducting the business of the association In fixing the premium payable by any subscriber the board of directors may take into account the condition of the plant work-room shop farm mines quarry operation and all other property or premises of such subscriber in respect to the safety of those employed therein as shown by the report of any inspector appointed by such board and they may from time to time change the amount of premiums payable by any of the subscribers as circumstances may require and the condition of the plant work-room shop farm mines quarry operation and all other property or premises of such subscriber in respect to the safety of their employes may justify and they may increase the premiums of any subscriber neglecting to provide safety devices required by law or disobeying the rules or regulations made by the Board of directors in accordance with the provisions of section eleven of this Act No policy of insurance issued to any subscriber shall be effective until he shall have paid the premium so fixed and determined

Section 14 The board may set aside such part of all premiums collected as it may deem necessary for the creation of an adequate surplus to cover the catastrophe hazard of all the subscribers to such fund and to guarantee the solvency of the fund

Section 15 If the association be not possessed of cash funds over and above its unearned premiums on undetermined risks sufficient for the payment of incurred losses and expenses it shall make an assessment for the amount needed to pay such losses and expenses upon the subscribers liable to assessment therefor in proportion to their several liabilities

Section 16 The board of directors may from time to time fix and determine the amount to be paid as dividends upon policies expiring each year after retaining the unearned premiums upon undetermined risks and sufficient sums to pay all the compensation then payable or which may become payable on acount of injuries theretofore received by employes of the subscribers and to pay the expenses incurred in the operation of the business of the association and such percentage of the premiums as have been paid or are payable to create and maintain the surplus provided in section fourteen

Section 17 The board of directors may divide the subscribers into groups in accordance with the nature of their business and the probable risks of injury therein In such case they shall fix all premiums for each business in such group and for the various classes of employments therein in accordance with the probable risks of injury to the employes in such business and in each class of employment therein and they shall make all assessments and determine and pay all dividends by and for each group in accordance with the experience thereof but all funds of the association and the contingent liability of all the subscribers shall be available for the payment of any claim against the association Provided however that (as between the association and its subscribers) until the whole of the contingent liability of the members of any group shall be exhausted the general funds of the association and the contingent liability of the members of other groups shall not be available for the payment of losses and expenses incurred by such group in excess of the earned premiums paid by the members thereof

Section 18 A statement of any proposed premium assessment dividend or distribution of subscribers into groups shall be filed with the Insurance Department and shall not take effect until approved by the Commissioner of Insurance

Section 19 If any officer of the association shall falsely make oath to any certificate required to be filled with the Commissioner of Insurance he shall be guilty of perjury

Section 20 Any subscriber of the association who has complied with all of its rules and regulations may withdraw therefrom by written notice to that effect sent by such subscriber by registered mail to the association and on such withdrawal shall become effective on the first day of the month immediately following the tenth day after the receipt of such notice but such withdrawal shall not release such subscriber from liability for the payment of assessments thereafter made by the Board of Directors to make up deficiencies existing at the date of his withdrawal and such subscriber shall be entitled to his share of any dividend earned at the date of his withdrawal

Section 21 If the Commissioner of Insurance shall find that more than fifty per centum of the contingent liability of all the subscribers is by quired to pay accured losses after charging against the funds in hand the unearned premiums on undetermined risks no further insurance shall be issued until the subscribers have made good such deficiency

Section 22 Such associations shall invest and keep invested all its funds of every description excepting such cash as may be required in the transaction of its business as follows

First In such real estate as it is authorized to hold by section twenty-three of this act

Second In bonds of the United States or the District of Columbia or of any state or territory of the United States

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 18, 1915.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that Thou art the King of Kings and Lord of lords; Thou art the Master of governments, and nations depend on Thee for their existence. We pray Thee this morning that Thou wouldst guide this agitated nation; overshadow it with Thine almighty wing; may Thine everlasting arms be under it to uphold it and protect it. Guide the President of the United States; give him thy wisdom to lead a united people in the paths of peace and righteousness. Bless the Governor of this State and may the work that he performs be the expressions of his deep convictions. Guide the Speaker of the House in his difficult duties, and may the closing days be the evidence of his successful leadership. Bless us as members and employees of this House, and may we look upon our work as a most important and solemn work, and may we so complete it that it will meet with the approval of our fellow citizens and will add glory to Thy great name. We ask for Christ's sake, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Myers, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. EPPLEY asked and obtained leave of absence for his colleague, Mr. Lanius, on account of illness.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. There is a House Appropriation Bill on third reading on page seventeen of to-day's calendar and unless it passes now it will not be possible to get it through this session. If there is no objection, we will take this bill up now. The Chair hears no objection.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 88, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the German Baptist Home for the Aged of Philadelphia Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—205.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The first bill on the calendar, Bill on Final Passage recalled from the Governor is not on the files and will be passed over for the present and we will take up bills on third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1231, entitled:

An Act to provide for the co-operation of the Commonwealth with the United States in the establishment of an experiment station for making investigations with a view to securing greater efficiency in the mining quarrying metallurgical and other mineral industries and making an appropriation therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. ADAM SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The next four bills on the calendar being House Bills there is no chance for them to pass this session and a motion to drop the same from the calendar is in order.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I think there is probably a chance to pass House Bill No. 848 on page two of the calendar of Bills on Third Reading. I understand they will have a third reading calendar in the Senate on Thursday.

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws the suggestion.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1456, entitled:

An Act to provide a system for the classification control construction and maintenance of public roads in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the creation of a State Highway Commission a board of county road commissioners for the election of a county superintendent of roads board of township supervisors defining the powers and duties and salaries of each providing for the assessment and collection of taxes the payment of employes payment for materials road machinery and indebtedness

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill it will wipe out the entire Highway Department and establish a new system, and if that be the case it seems to me it ought to be voted down and we should give the present Highway Department a chance to make good.

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

I therefore move that the bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in view of the fact of the importance of this measure and of the people who are interested in it, and of the fact that it can not pass the Senate if it passes this House, I do not see any objection to the bill remaining on the calendar and being treated as other bills are, either let it take its licking on its merits or demerits. And another thing. the sponsor of this bill is not here now.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Metzenbacher and Mr. Sarig, were as follows:

YEAS—83.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I call up from page 26, of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, House Bill No. 1615, Senate Bill No. 845, File Folio 3515.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1615 (Senate No. 845), entitled:

An Act providing for the payment of premiums on bonds required of public officers and for the discharge of sureties thereunder

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill overthrows existing law on the subject, which enables a bonding company to be discharged from its office as surety for an administrator, executor, assignee, trustee or guardian, as the case may be upon notice to the principal and does not provide proper notice to the persons interested in the funds in the trustee's hands. It is a bill that ought never to have been on the calendar of this House and if passed will benefit nobody but the corporate surety companies who are operating in Pennsylvania. The law of practice in surety is now established and if a surety company for a consideration undertakes to go on a man's bond it ought to stay there until it is discharged and not permitted to get out of its liability by a summary proceeding such as is provided in this bill.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, it is very evident that the gentleman from Franklin does not understand what he is talking about. He evidently does not know that there is no provision whereby a surety company may be discharged from a bond even after the liability has ended. I want to say, further, that the Attorney General has looked over this bill and he says that it is entirely satisfactory and that it should be passed. I hope that you will not vote against this bill. It is entirely fair to all interested in surety companies.

There is no law now whereby the debtor may be discharged even after their liability is ended and they ought to have some legislation whereby they can be discharged after their liability on the bond is ended. I hope that the bill will pass.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I was mistaken as to the bill, and I apologize to the gentleman from Dauphin and the House. A bill of the character I mentioned was in the House and my remarks applied to that bill. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

An Act to regulate cold storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violations of the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1699 (Senate Bill No. 1050), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia county

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1733 (Senate Bill No. 931), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of article four section one of article five and section nine of article twenty-four of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" approved the ninth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven permitting operators managers and superintendents free selection of mine foremen assistant mine foremen and fire bosses and placing mine employes under the supervision and control of the operator.

The first section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of article four section one of article five and section nine of article twenty-four of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" approved the ninth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven be and the same are hereby amended to read as follows

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 That section one of article four of said act which reads as follows

"Section 1 In order to secure efficient management and proper ventilation of the mines to promote the health and safety of the persons employed therein and to protect and preserve the property connected therewith the operator or the superintendent shall employ a competent and practical mine foreman for every mine where ten or more persons are employed The mine foreman shall have full charge of all the inside workings and of the persons employed therein in order that all the provisions of this act so far as they relate to his duties shall be complied with and the regulations prescribed for each class of workmen under his charge carried out in the strictest manner possible If the mine is generating explosive gas in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman must possess a first grade mine foreman's certificate If the mine is non-gaseous the mine foreman must possess either a first grade mine foreman's certificate or a second grade mine foreman's certificate

When the mine workings become so extensive that the mine foreman is unable personally to carry out the requirements of this act pertaining to his duties he shall have the right to employ a sufficient number of competent persons to act as his assistants who shall act under his instructions in carrying out the provisions of this act If the mine is generating explosive gas in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman's

assistants must possess first grade assistant mine foreman's certificates

In case of the necessary temporary absence of the mine foreman he may deputize his work for the time being to his assistant who shall perform all the duties of the mine foreman" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 In order to secure efficient management and proper ventilation of the mines to promote the health and safety of the persons employed therein and to protect and preserve the property connected therewith the operator or the superintendent shall employ a competent and practical mine foreman for every mine where ten or more persons are employed who shall be under the supervision and control of the operator The mine foreman shall have full charge of all the inside workings and the persons employed therein subject however to the supervision and control of the operator in order that all the provisions of this act so far as they relate to his duties shall be complied with and the regulations prescribed for each class of workmen under his charge carried out in the strictest manner possible If the mine is generating explosive gas in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman must possess a first grade mine foreman's certificate or be a person who in the judgment of the operator is a person equally competent with the holders of such certificates If the mine is non-gaseous the mine foreman must possess either a first grade mine foreman's certificate or a second grade mine foreman's certificate or be a person who in the judgment of the operator is equally competent with the holders of such certificates

When the mine workings become so extensive that the mine foreman is unable personally to carry out the requirements of this act pertaining to his duties he shall have the right to employ a sufficient number of competent persons to act as his assistants who shall be under his instructions and the operator's instructions in carrying out the provisions of this act If the mine is generating explosive gas in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman's assistants must possess first grade assistant mine foremen's certificates or be a person who in the judgment of the operator is equally competent with the holders of such certificates

In case of the necessary temporary absence of the mine foreman he may deputize his work for the time being to his assistant who shall perform all the duties of the mine foreman and the right to hire and discharge employes the management of the mine and the direction of the working forces are vested exclusively in the operator and no person or persons association or associations organization or organizations corporation or corpratins shall interfere with or attempt to abridge in any manner whatsoever such right, in any manner whatsoever such right Provided That this act shall not invalidate any existing contract

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2, line 36, after the word "management" strike out the word "and."

Amend section 2, line 76, after the word "foreman" strike out the following: "and the right to hire and discharge employes the management of the mine and the direction of the working forces are vested exclusively in the operator and no person or persons, association or associations, organization or organizations, corporation or corporations shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with, abridge or attempt to abridge in any manner whatsoever such right, Provided That this act shall not invalidate any existing contract.' "

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker among the amendments offered by the gentleman from Clearfield is the suggestion that in line 76 on down to line 83 inclusive that the words

"and the right to hire and discharge employes the management of the mine and the direction of the working forces are vested exclusively in the operator and no person or persons association or associations organization or organizations corporation or corporations shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with abridge or attempt to abridge in any manner whatsoever such right Provided That this act shall not invalidate any existing contract" be stricken out. Now I hope this House will not agree to that proposition at all. This amendment was rightfully put in in the Senate and if the bituminous operators in this State are to be put under what is known as the "compensation law" and be compelled to assume the liability for the foreman in the mine, which is now under State control, they should have the same right over all the other employees and this House will be imposed upon now if they strike out this amendment. This bill should not be disturbed at all so far as these words are concerned, and it will destroy the effect of it and the features of it as it was intended in the Senate. I trust the House will not agree to these amendments and I ask that these amendments be considered alone. This particular amendment be considered alone.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Do I understand that there are several amendments to different parts of the same section offered?

The SPEAKER. There are two amendments.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker then I stand by the gentleman from Jefferson in asking that they be dealt with separately.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section two line 36 after the word "management" strike out the word "and"

Line 76, after the word "foreman" strike out the following: "and the right to hire and discharge employes the management of the mine and the direction of the working forces are vested exclusively in the operator and no person or persons association or associations organization or organizations corporation or corporations shall interfere with or attempt to interfere with abridge or attempt to abridge in any manner whatsoever such right Provided That this act shall not invalidate any existing contract"

The SPEAKER. The question is,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker I do not understand that this is one amendment that is read by the Clerk. I am opposed to its being amended at this late hour. I hope the House will vote down any amendments that are offered here because it tears in so that it will destroy the whole bill and we will have nothing left.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that the intent of the amendment offered is understood, a few weeks ago we passed a bill similar to this pertaining to the anthracite miners. This one pertains to the bituminous. This bill is different from the anthracite bill in so far as this section that the proposed amendment means to strike out is concerned. which we are speaking of now, and which Mr. Wilson read to you is not in the bill that we passed a few weeks ago pertaining to the anthracite miners. Now why shall we have this clause inserted in the bituminous bill? This bill is intended to provide that the working man in the mining regions shall come under the provisions of the Workingman's compensation act, and the bill we passed a few weeks ago for the anthracite miners was exactly similar to this in sense only insofar that it did not have that section did it differ. They slipped this in over in the Senate. It will work a hardship on the workers in the soft coal region and we want that section taken out in accordance with the amendments offered by the gentleman from Clearfield, therefore I hope gentleman that you will vote to strike out this particular section as asked for in the amendment presented. Why shall this particular section be in when it is simply a blow at the workers of the soft coal regions. That is what it means, and we only ask to have the soft coal workers given what was given to the hard coal miner in this House—that is all we want, and if this is allowed to remain it will not give the bituminous miners what the anthracite miners have, and we want this stricken out.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, it was almost impossible to hear the remarks of the gentleman who preceded me, but of this much I am sure, that the act as I now stands was very carefuly considered in the Senate and is for the express purpose of bringing under the provisions of the Compensation Bills the bituminous plants and if that is true you are going to make the operators responsible for the foremen that are in it and we say that the amendment as put in by the Senate says if you are going to make the operators responsible for the foremen you should have the same right for all the employes under them. That is all the amendment does. They are being brought under the Compensation Bill properly in all respects. This merely gives the operators the same position as to all the employes as it does to the foremen. In other words, they shall have the right to select all the employes as well as the foremen. Heretofore the State has exercised the right to say what foremen shall be selected and they could not hire people without the permission of the State. This bill as planned is perfectly satisfactory to those interests and those interests should be protected at this time and all the mine workers ought to be in favor of it.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the Speaker has said that this provision in the bill is perfectly satisfactory to all interests. I would like to ask him what interests.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Why, Mr. Speaker, of almost all interests, including the workers and foremen, I should say.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, they are not satisfactory to the workers. The miners do not want them. Whether you have reference to the operators I do not know.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is misinformed as to that point, and I believe that if an attempt is made here to make this wholesale amendment at the last minute that it will endanger the bill itself and I feel that I will have to oppose the bill in its entirety if these amendments are put in, and I ask the House to stand by in opposing any amendments whatever.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and sixty-eight voting in the affirmative and fifty-nine in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 3 That section one of article five of said act which reads as follows

"Section 1 In such portions of a mine wherein explosive gas has been generated within one year before the passage of this act or shall be generated after the passage of this act in sufficient quantities to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman shall employ a fire boss or fire bosses whose competency to act as such shall be evidenced by a certificate of qualification from the Department of Mines on the recommendation of the examining board as provided for in section six article twenty-four of this act It shall be the duty of the fire boss to examine carefully before each shift enters the mine every working place without exception all places adjacent to live workings every roadway and every unfenced road to abandoned workings and falls in the mines but before proceeding with the examination he shall see that the air current is traveling in its proper course In making the examination he shall use no light other than that enclosed in an approved safety lamp The examination shall begin within three hours prior to the appointed time for each shift to enter the mine The fire boss shall examine for all dangers in all portions of the mine under his charge and after each examination he shall leave at the face and side of every place examined the date of examination as evidence that he has performed his duty He shall also examine the entrance or entrances to all worked out and abandoned portions adjacent to the roadways and working places under his charge where explosive gas is likely to accumulate and he shall place a danger signal across the entrance to every working place and every other place where explosive gas is discovered or where immediate danger is found to exist from any other cause and said signal shall be sufficient warning for persons not to enter The meaning of all danger signals shall be explained to the non-English speaking employes of the mine in their several languages by the mine foreman assistant mine foreman or fire boss through an interpreter" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 In such portions of a mine wherein explosive gas has been generated within one year before the passage of this act or shall be generated after the passage of this act in sufficient quantities to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman shall employ a fire boss or fire bosses whose competency to act as such shall be evidenced by a certificate of qualification from the Department of Mines on the recommendation of the examining board as provided for in section six article twenty-four of this act or a person or persons who in the judgment of the operator is equally competent with the holders of such certificates It shall be the duty of the fire boss to examine carefully before each shift enters the mine every working place without exception all places adjacent to live workings every roadway and every unfenced road to abandoned workings and falls in the mines but before proceeding with the examination he shall see that the air current is traveling in its proper course In making the examination he shall use no light other than that enclosed in an approved safety lamp The examination shall begin within three hours prior to the appointed time to enter the mine The fire boss shall examine for dangers in all portions of the mine under his charge and after each examination he shall leave at the face and side of every place examined the date of the examination as evidence that he has performed his duty He shall also examine the entrance or entrances to all worked out and abandoned portions adjacent to the roadways and working places under his charge where explosive gas is likely to accumulate and he shall place a danger signal across the entrance to every working place and every other place where explosive gas is discovered or immediate danger is found to exist from any other place where explosive gas is discovered or immediate danger is found to exist from any other cause and said signal shall be sufficient warning for persons not to enter The meaning of all danger signals shall be explained to the non-English speaking employes of the mine in their several languages by the mine foreman assistant mine foreman or fire boss through an interpreter

The fourth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 4 That section nine of Article twenty-four of said act which reads as follows

"Section 9 It shall be unlawful for any operator manager or superintendent to employ as mine foreman in any mine or as assistant mine foreman in any gaseous mine any person who has not obtained the proper certificate of qualification or service required by this act provided That all persons holding certificates of qualification as mine foreman granted under the provisions of the act of May fifteen one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three may continue to serve and provided further That any person acting as mine foreman by virtue of holding a certificate of service granted previous to the passage of the act of May fifteen one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three may continue to serve at any mine where the general conditions affecting the health and safety of the persons employed do not differ materially from those at the mine in which he was employed when said certificate was granted which question shall be decided by the inspector of the district and it shall be unlawful for any operator manager superintendent or mine foreman to employ as fire boss any person who has not obtained the proper certificate of qualification required by this act provided That all persons holding certificates of qualification as fire bosses granted under the provisions of the act of May fifteen one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three may continue to serve" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 It shall be lawful for any operator manager or superintendent to employ as mine foreman in any mine or as assistant mine foreman in any gaseous mine any person who has obtained the proper certificate of qualification or service required by this act or a person who in the judgment of the operator is equally competent with the person or persons who are the holders of such certificates Provided That all persons holding certificates of qualification as mine foremen granted under the provisions of May fifteen one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three may continue to serve And provided further That any person acting as mine foreman by virtue of holding a certificate of service granted previous to the passage of the act of May fifteen one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three may continue to serve at any mine where the general conditions affecting the health and safety of the persons employed do not differ materially from those at the mine in which he is employed when said certificate was granted which question shall be decided by the inspector of the district and it shall be unlawful for any operator manager superintendent or mine foreman to employ as fire boss any person who has not obtained the proper certificate of qualification re quired by this act or a person who in the judgment of the operator is equally competent with the person or persons who are the holders of such certificates Provided That all persons holding certificates of qualification as fire bosses granted under the provisions of the act of May fifteen one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three may continue to serve

This act shall not go into force or become operative until the first day of January Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred sixteen

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. FORSTER. This bill authorizes private owners of property, clay mines, to take by right of eminent domain, properties adjoining their property. Now, I believe that the right of eminent domain should be given only after due and careful consideration. Furthermore, it has never been the policy of the law, and I submit that it is against the provisions of the Constitution, to grant this right to any one but public or quasi public corporations. Inasmuch as this provides for neither public or quasi public corporations, I raise the point of order that this bill is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. This being a constitutional point of order the Chair will submit the same to the House.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the point of order?

It was sustained and the bill dropped from the calendar.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think that this is a bill that the House can well afford to drop from the calendar. It simply disturbs the legal process that has now been established and I think it would be wise to let it stand as it is.

I, therefore, move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill puts some amendments in the public service law. These amendments take care of one of the most glaring imperfections in the law, namely, provide that the Public Service Commission may authorize or deputize persons in the various localities to take testimony. It is to save the cost of compelling litigants to bring their witnesses to Harrisburg to appear before the Commission upon every occasion.

I might say that this bill has been considered by practically all parties who have been interested in this matter and is the result of this consideration. I therefore ask you to vote against this motion of the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, at the present time, under the law, this matter comes before the Dauphin County Court.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, it is simply impossible for us to go along with our work with any clear understanding of what is being done. The noise in the back part of the House and extending down the sides is something awful and I cannot hear a man speaking even though he is within twenty feet of me.

The SPEAKER. The Sergeant at Arms will close the doors and see that conversation ceases in the rear of the House.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, under the present provisions of the Public Service Commission, these matters are carried to the Dauphin County court. Now, the proposition is to take them to the Superior Court. In my judgment you had better leave it where it is. You have some landmarks now established and it would be a great deal easier to leave it stay there for a couple of years anyhow. I do not see any necessity for the change. I think the bill might as well be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WALTERS. Mr. Speaker, this permits the Public Service Commission to take testimony anywhere in the State. Anybody any distance from Harrisburg knows what a tremendous expense and inconvenience it is to come here and stay two or three days to take testimony. The expense is prohibitive and you cannot get the relief which the Public Service law seeks to give to the community. This bill ought to pass.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

passed second reading be reconsidered.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring, will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend Senate Bill No. 840, House No. 1781, File Folio 4059, on page 1, section 1, line 9, after the word "animals" insert the words "except dogs and cats."

On the question,

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 27 of today's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, House Bill No. 1736, Senate Bill No. 1400.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1736 (Senate No. 1400), entitled:

An Act to authorize the insertion in the charter of any corporation for the support of public worship or for any like religious purpose, either originally or by amendment, of a provision that the rector or minister chosen by such corporation to take charge of the religious services by it maintained shall during his continuance in said office of rector or minister be ex-officio president of the vestry, board of trustees, board of directors or governing body by whatever name designated, of such corporation, and to validate similar provisions in the charters of such corporation heretofore granted.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, this bill is identical with one I introduced in the House which was defeated on Tuesday last, through a misunderstanding. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Bungard, who attacked the bill, generously offered to reconsider it and the bill was put back on the calendar. As the bill I am calling up is a Senate Bill and has already passed the Senate, I ask the House to vote on this bill, then I will ask the House to drop the other bill from the calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. RONEY Mr Speaker, I desire to call up for consideration at this time House Bill No. 1608 (Senate Bill No. 366), File Folio 1043, on page twenty-six of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed for the Present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1608 (Senate Bill No. 366), entitled:

An Act to amend the third section of an act entitled "An Act relative to the supervision and control of hospitals or homes in which the insane are placed for treatment or detention" approved the eighth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three so as to fix the compensation of the Secretary of the Committee on Lunacy

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RONEY. Yse sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know fhat the duties of this Secretray of the Board are.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, the Secretary of the Committee on Lunacy is also its executive agent and representative in supervising the eight State hospitals for the insane, twenty-one county hospitals for the insane and a dozen private sanatoriums. The present aggregate insane population of the State is about nineteen thousand, over whcih the Secretary of the State Board of Lunacy has supervision and control and from whom from time to time he receives reports and to which institutions from time to time he must make visits.

Mr. SHOWALTER. I do not know the gentleman that fills that office now and I do not want to feel that that I have any animus toward him, but it is my consistent purpose to oppose bills that are raising salaries. We have been trying to find money, to raise revenue for roads and various institutions and we have not been able to raise enough to meet the demand. I therefore think it is unfair that we should be raising salaries day after day when we cannot meet the demands of the charitable institutions and public improvements. I do not believe the gentleman will resign if he does not receive the increase in salary and it is possible that within the next few years we will have enough revenue to take care of him.

Mr. HESS in the Chair.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, in addition to visiting the various institutions which house the insane of this State the present Secretary of the State Board of Lunacy is the alienist of the Pardon Board to investigate all complaints about the unlawful detention of the inmates, and the salary, despite the fact that the insane population has increased to a large degree the past twenty years, has not been increased accordingly. It simply fixes the salary at five thousand dollars. Massachusetts pays its Secretary eight thousand and New York pays its Secretary eight thousand dollars and we are only asking for five thousand dollars for the Secretary of our State Board of Lunacy who has charge, as I said before, of some thirty institutions. I think this is the most reasonable increase that has been asked for in this Legislature and this is a very meritorious bill which I think the House should support.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1704, File Folio 8229, on page 26 of to-day's calendar.

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1704, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act entitled "An Act for the assignment of judges to districts other than their own for the purpose of expediting business with provision for their compensation" approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred eleven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill, if passed, would prevent the assignment of Judges, as now exists, from their own districts to others. We hear a great deal of of complaint, especially from the county represented by the sponsor of this bill, the County of Philadelphia, about overworked Judges. It is much cheaper to pay Judges from outside the county, as now provided by the existing law, than it would be to create new Judges. We have too many now, under the present system, and the present system enables them to be utilized where they are needed. Where it costs a thousand dollars now, it would cost six to ten thousand to make a new Judge. It seems to me it would be in the interests of economy to defeat this bill.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. Speaker, it is the custom now for the Judges of smaller districts to go in and help the Judges of the bigger districts. In conversation with our Judge, he told me that the Judge of one of the neighboring districts was happy to have him. He said: "We have not enough work for two Judges, and too much work for one, and we are glad of this law as it exists now." I spoke to our Judge and he said: "I get six thousand dollars now, but if this repealer goes through and I am called into neighboring districts to help out, and get nothing, then I shall not go unless their Judges are sick." That is the status of affairs. This helps the smaller districts out and it helps the bigger districts out and it is a money saver in the end.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That teh Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 27, House Bill No. 1766, Senate Bill No. 857, from Bills on Third Reading Postponed calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1766 (Senate No. 857), entitled:

An Act to provide for just compensation to the Commonwealth and to persons and corporations for loss or damage to property by fire proximately caused by the operation of locomotive engines on railroads in this State by making railroad corporations responsible for all such loss and damage irrespective of the existence or non-existence of negligence on their part in cases where such fires arise within one hundred feet of the railroad or rights of way owned or operated by such corporation outside of the territorial limits of cities and boroughs

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that on May 5th, House Bill No. 1499, file folio 7513, a bill indentical with this one, was defeated. That was a bill indentical with the bill now under consideration. The facts are we defeated a bill indentically with the present one and if you will consider it at all it would not have a single vote in this House. I think it ought to be defeated.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, granting what the gentleman from Delaware says is true. I ask you whether it is conclusive proof that you should vote against a bill today because you did the day before yesterday or some other day. I contend that a man who will vote one way today may vote differently from his vote of day before yesterday, and only admits that he understands it better and that they know more about it today than they did the day before yesterday. How many bills have been defeated on the floor of this House and on the floor of the Senate and then been reconsidered and passed and have become splendid legislation for the people of this State? As you know, very many of them. You have voted to help to reconsider bills that have been defeated and have helped to pass bills which have been defeated previously. We know that in the spirit which pervades a House, frequently, as we see it here today, that good bills go down to defeat and that bad bills are passed because we don't get to the bottom of the facts in their cases. Let us see exactly what this bill is for, if possible, and let us see whether we would not vote for such a bill. The question is simply this: It has been a fact, from the beginning in this State, railroads have been in the position of creating forest fires along their routes. I speak particularly of that of which I know with regard to the oil country. The situation has been this: When a fire originates from the spark of a locomotive and when they have the right of way and the owner of real estate along that property brings an action against the railroad company to recover damages, as he justly should receive from that railroad company, that it becomes necessary for him, in order to recover damages, to bring into court the identical spark which came from the locomotive and if he does not he cannot recover. Some will say that is all folderol. I tell you that is a fact and is sustained by court records. I have seen it, where men have gone down to ruin, without any redress, and have lost thousands and thousands of dollars on their property located along railroad lines because they could not bring into court the spark which set fire to his property. What does this bill do? It puts the man who lives along railroad lines in a proper position on a question of fifty-fifty as between the owner of property and the railroad. When we can bring suit and not require the owners of these properties to bring into court the spark that started the fire we will be able to give those owners some protection. The bill also says plainly that such damages are proximately caused by the railroad company. It does not say that it absolutely is caused by them but it does give an opportunity for the owner of the land and the owner of the property who have a chance to sue the railroad company successfully. I can assure you that at the present time the railroad company does not have anything to do but sit still and wait for the owner of property to bring to court the spark that caused the fire and if they cannot do that they cannot recover. I ask you, in all fairness, in all justice to vote a law upon the statute books that will make the railroad companies do something. I hope you will vote in favor of tis bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Roney and Mr. Forster and were as follows:

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker. I move that the vote by which the House concurred in the amendments made to House Bill No. 627, File Folio 9405, be reconsidered.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 627.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 627, File Folio 9405.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 662, File Folio 8915, be reconsidered.

Mr. LAULER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to the present condition of House Bill No. 662, known as The Equal Rights Bill. Through some misunderstanding, perhaps an oversight on the part of the gentleman who made the motion, the bill, as it came from the Senate, this morning was non-concurred in, which of course puts us to the necessity of now appointing a conference committee or have the Speaker do so. Now, I would like to have the gentlemen of the House, if they have no objections to permit the bill to pass in the form in which the Senate has amended the bill. There are heavy penalties and other provisions in the bill which the Senate in its wisdom has seen fit to eliminate. Now I cannot see what objection we can now have if we passed the greater and now necessarily include the smaller and I would ask the gentlemen of the House to reconsider that vote so that we concur in the bill as it came from the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stein, that his motion is out of order; that the bill is not in the possession of the House, the same having been messaged to the Senate, and therefore the vote cannot be reconsidered at this time.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce that the Honorable Romulo S. Naon, Ambassador from Argentine, will address a Joint Meeting of the Assembly in this hall at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Immediately after the address, the House will continue on in its regular order of business.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. There being no objections, the Chair will declare a recess until 2:20 o'clock. The Chair hears none.

Whereupon, (at 1 o'clock P. M.) the House took a recess until 2:20 P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 2:20 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE SENATE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, and the gentleman from Susquehanna, Mr. E. E. Jones, and the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, as a committee to notify the Senate of the joint meeting of the Assembly to be addressed by Romulo S. Naon, at 2:30 o'clock, and to escort that body to the Hall of the House.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, the committee of the House desires to report that it has performed its duties.

JOINT SESSION.

The SPEAKER. The members of the Senate will be seated.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR FRANK B. McCLAIN in the Chair.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. The General Assembly of Pennsylvania in joint convention met, will be in order.

Far to the South of us in Latin America, lives a great sister Republic, The Argentina, whose strides in all the arts of civilization, are, to-day, exciting the wonderment and compelling the admiration of older nations of the world. Argentina's people have been close students of our history and have fashioned, in large degree, on our model, their political, economic and social institutions.

Nothing that we propose or do for human advantage escapes the attention of those who direct the affairs of that fair Southland. Would that our study in the past of its people, had corresponded to their study of us. If it had, our social relations with them would be more intimate; our trade relations would be more extensive and "The Slogan" "Made in U. S.," would have a more important significance.

Their form of Government, is practically identical with ours, as is also, every element of their social and educational activity. It is no exaggeration to say that identical also is their destiny with ours. Therefore, there is every reason why a better understanding should exist between the people of these two great Republics, of the Western Hemisphere, which better understanding, will, yes must, result to our mutual advantage in things commercial and as well establish a Governmental fraternity; a community of national friendship and social fellowship, with all the benefits, the same will develop and will create a comity of interest and purpose, that will give additional strength and significance to that great guarantee of Peace, "The Monroe Doctrine."

We are honored to-day in having as our guest, a gentleman who has long been actively and effectively identified with the political (and I use the term "Political" in its broadest sense) affairs of the Government, which he now represents, with so much dignity, culture and usefulness at our National Capitol.

I now present him to you,

His Excellency Romulo S. Naon, Ambassador to the United States, from The Argentine Republic.

ADDRESS OF AMBASSADOR NAON.

Governor Brumbaugh, Lieutenant Governor McClain, Mr. Speaker Ambler, Senators and Representatives of Pennsylvania.

I have never experienced a more gratifying surprise than that which came to me when I received through your eminent Governor, information of this honorable distinction which you have bestoyed uon me in inviting me to address you on this occasion. I am aware that such a distinction is generally bestowed as a reward for the virtues of men who forsake the worship of their own interests in order to devote, without any reservation whatsoever, all their thought and all their action to the service of the moral progress of their country or of mankind.

I am also aware that the bestowal of this honorable distinction was not prompted in this case by personal qualities, but rather by the consideration inspired by the noble efforts that my country is making to define, at the other end of the continent, a new element of democracy and republicanism, a new element of human progress, a new political and social glory for America. You know, gentlemen, how deep is the gratitude with which the heart of a patriot receives a recognition of this character and you will therefore realize my profound gratification on this day.

I cannot imagine myself receiving an honor higher than this because the name of your State has always lived in the hearts and in the memories of my compatriots as an inspiration and as a gospel.

I can hardly imagine that any Argentine could address an assembly which embodies the highest representation of your people without feeling the emotion that I feel at this moment when I breathe this atmosphere which has always attracted me since the beginning of my mental life, inasmuch as we feel that the name of Pennsylvania is associated with the development of the greatness of my country.

You know, gentlemen, that the Argentine Republic has always looked northward in order to decry, through the vicissitudes of her progress, the route of your destinies and the ideals of your activities, since it felt intensely in its innermost self the need of seeking inspiration capable of aiding it in the task of bringing into life a nationality able to arouse the admiration and even the gratitude of the world in the future.

You know also that the development of our political life shows that this eagerness with which we have followed your triumphs was not merely the satisfaction of a contemplative temperament, because we wrested from your triumphs the democratic institutions which now direct the development of our organic life and which we have applied, not as an inanimate copy, but developing and adapting them to the exigencies of our characteristic peculiarities, until we moulded them into a constitution which in my pride as an Argentine citizen, perhaps excessive, I have on more than one occasion, defined as the most perfect instrument of political organization that human thought has ever devised.

And, gentlemen, this first result of our efforts to admire you and to apply the stimulus of your greatness to the realization of our patriotic aspirations, is the principal and perhaps the most intense ground for the gratitude which Argentina professes for her great sister republic and especially for your illustrious Commonwealth from which we have drawn constant inspiration born of your sublime declaration of independence and of your great Constitution of 1787.

Besides that, it was the example of Pennsylvania among others, that furnished Argentina with the first elements for the organization of our normal schools and for perfecting our system of primary education, and the names of many of the American teachers who initiated that organization may to-day be found immortalized by the devotion of our people, directing with the memory of their virtues and the prestige of their names the destinies of our most important educational institutions of that character.

But this very institution which a residence in the United States and in Pennsylvania suggested to one of our great civilizers and which the mind of your teachers carried out in its early days, has also been developed in its subsequent application by our Nation in the same manner as those other institutions to which I referred when speaking of the application of your democratic principles. But if even this were not enough, I might also say that in addition to our military heroes, and our civilian heroes, that in addition to the recollection of the virtues and sacrifices of our San Martin, our Moreno and our Sarmiento, the Argentine citizen and the Argentine statesman has always found an inspiration in your Washington, in your Jefferson, in your Hamilton, in your Abraham Lincoln, and in your James G. Blaine.

If all these statements do not justify the great emotion and the profound gratification that I feel in addressing you at this moment, I would refer to the efforts being exerted, both here and there, among your progressive and patriotic people as well as among our masses and our men of government, in the common task of binding together our two countries, in perfecting the ties and increasing the relations between them not only in a sentimental way but also in a practical way, socially, politically, commercially and economically, in order that we may stand together as a nucleus around which will take place the future reconstruction of the world.

We are passing through a very critical moment. We are living, gentlemen, in the most historical and trying hour of the century. The social atmosphere of the entire Universe appears as if rarified and in an enormous part of the civilized world there is substituted in place of the distinction of literary and philosophical speculation, in place of the solemn and moralizing tranquility of scientific investigation, and in place of the fruitful application of its principles to the endless multiplicity of industrial activities,—discouragement and sadness and despair in the home, solitude in the laboratory where the life of modern civilization was created, and funereal silence in the industrial workshop where the social and political capacity of the great laboring masses was augmented to bring about the triumph of human democracy which, emphasizing the dignity of Man and his divine origin, consecrates him entirely to that collective activity which cannot be worked out but upon a solidarity of interests and a profound sentiment of fraternity.

Our continent has drawn the material for the groundwork of its own civilization from the countries which are shedding their blood in this war; the sound political judgment of England has always been an inspiration and an example for us; the great achievements of German activity and science have contributed in great measure to our welfare and progress, and the nobility and genius of France in the fields of philosophy and art, have constituted and still constitute, for most of the nations of America, the highest model for their mental activities. It might well be said that all the moral and material energies of those peoples have combined to produce this marvelous social transformation called American civilization, a transformation which feels itself affected in its most vital elements by the social consternation and the economic upset brought about by the sorrowful dissession among the great European nations. And that consternation, gentlemen, is thoroughly justified, when we stop to thing that beside the moral ties there are also the ties of blood which have made of Europe and of America brother continents dedicated to the activities of a common race, with fundamentally identical ideals and with mutual interests in the maintenance of the energies indispensable to the complete fulfillment of human destinies.

You will thus see how we are obliged to look with sympathy on the peoples engaged in the present war; how we are compelled to consider with tolerance the motive underlying the sad conflict. There could be no justification at the present moment, in the practical judgment which directs the action of peoples, either for an angry protest or for a philosophical or sentimental criticism against the present generation of those countries which, the heirs of political systems or of institutions or of organizations which evolve slowly, or of more or less explicable prejudices or passions, have been compelled to face the responsibilities of this sorrowful crisis in which one-half of the world is destroying itself while the other half stands stricken almost dumb with awe and grief!

In the face of this enormous catastrophe the bearing of America cannot be but expectant and reconstructive if, as I believe, there is still reason to trust that the idea of human solidarity is the final end of social evolution. May God grant that, inspired by that idea and prompted by our community of interests, all the nations of America before long may co-operate in the task, a thousand times blessed, of restoring lasting peace and friendship among the people of Europe, together with the sentiment of that solidarity as the basis for their future action. Meanwhile, if it be permitted to us at the present moment only to express this hope, which is in all hearts as the earnest hope of our solidary America, if a protest from her would be but cruel at the present moment, and if a philosophical criticism would not be worthy of respect, as a commentary on the painful spectacle, nevertheless, we cannot let our attention wander from it when all our present and future interests are so seriously jeopardized by the conflict. Neglect in the consideration of the factors which have produced the crisis, for the purpose of avoiding them in the organization of our international policy in America, would be, if not criminal on our part, at least a manifestation of organic inconsistency, a demonstration that our countries or our governments are as yet unprepared to comprehend the mission that is destined for us in the concert of the nations of the world. An error among societies as well as among men, is either rectified, corrected, or modified, by the wise co-operative actions of those who had the good fortune of not being parties to the discussion of the causes which led to such error. Hence it is that at the present hour it is for us,—the countries far removed from the scene and aloof from the interests in the midst of which the European dissessions have been growing until this terrible climax, to take up the arduous but glorious task of reincarnating modern civilization. But to do this it becomes essential to readjust the system of our political ties; to correct, until they are made to vanish, the causes of possible disagreements; and, finally, to cement American solidarity, founding it upon the only immovable base in the relations of countries, that is to say, upon the maintenance of the principles of right, of justice and of reciprocal tolerance.

I do not believe that I err when I advance as an immediate cause of the sorrowful European situation, the prevalence of an international political system based on antagonisitc interests of all kinds. With pain I reflect upon the fact that if prejudice and passion had not prevented those interests from harmonizing, these titanic efforts in the struggle we are witnessing might have made up a sum of energies and constructive action so enormous that their result in benefit of civilization and of progress and of life, would have exceeded by far the most daring flight of human imagination.

Unfortunately, European civilization has developed in fact as the product of a national individualistic organization without of moral achievements common to all the countries, upon which the responsibility for their preservation also rested.

Face to face with the interests and conveniences of the one, were the interests and conveniences of the others; face to face with the presumed national destinies of the one, were the presumed national destinies of the others; face to face with the political and social traditions of the one, were the political and social traditions of the others; and, finally, face to face with the material and moral progress of the one, was the material and moral progress of the others; and what is more painful still is that this material and moral progress appears not to have been provoked solely by a sentiment of sound emulation by a feeling of co-operation inspired by the intention of fulfilling the individual task in the common work of collective progress. No; its production appears to have been prompted also by feelings of intense rivalry on every hand eager to utilize them in the inevitable struggle thus giving vent to sentiments which carry with them belittlement and hatred and which contaminate the atmosphere of tolerance and respect, which is the only atmosphere in which the cultivation of friendly relations is possible.

But all the cirmustances which have united to bind our nations with the European nations, making, as I have said before, of Europe and of America continents dedicated to the activities of a common race, also make us concerned for the modification of those conditions, not by a direct physical influence, which would not accord with the moral action of one nation upon another, but by the indirect moral influence always exercised upon human organisms by the success of the action of those among whom we live.

To America is reserved the honorable task of exercising an influence in the transformation of the old international organization of the world by the example of its organization of solidarity, which, at the same time that it maintains in all its vigor and to its fullest extent each and every one of the national organisms, lives the international life without dread, without disturbance and without conflict.

By rare good fortune when we inherited the elements of the civilization of those great nations, we did not inherit the prejudices and the passions which have burst out into the horrible universal hecatomb we are witnessing. Our political developments are not controlled by the systems of government which, athough they have experienced a great and favorable evolution, live still influenced by the tradition of principles the wisdom of which was questioned by the glorious framers of the constitutions of the continent.

There do not exist in our national organisms nor have there ever existed those differences of cast which always leave, notwithstanding the lapse of time, a sentiment of inequality and hatred in the very depths of society, nor do we have to contend with fundamental ethnic differences; all of the nations of America are, with more or less intensity, organisms in course of formation, the product of a similar cosmopolitanism in which all races are fused together and all ideals evolve openly toward an American formation whose future differentiation will be governed more by the geographical and climatological characteristics of each nation, then by its ethnic elements. That formation in the last analysis will produce an American type from one end of the continent to the other, with similar and common ideals and aspirations, with the same purposes and needs, as well as with an identical political conception developed under the influence of republican institutions, uniform in all our countries, and which live, stimualted by that profound sentiment of individual and collective equality imposed upon us as a necessity of our spirit, by democratic sentiment, both in our national activities and in the maintenance of our international relations.

These are not the only conditions of similarity which distinguish the very peculiar position of America, facilitating the fudfilment of common destinies without essential friction to disturb an intense and fruitful co-operation. At the bottom of every one of our elements there lives and palpitates a common feeling of horror for warfare among the countries of this continent, and this feeling, gentlemen, is prompted rather than by a political idea, rather than by selfish advantage, by a feeling of continental fraternity still undefined but felt as intensely in the valleys of your Mississippi or on the prairies of your triumphant West, as on the exuberant plains of the tropics or in the cold and remote southermost regions of my country. It is the presentiment of a common destiny to the realization of which we also consider ourselves bound by the earnest desire to consecrate the best energies of each people without considerations of relativity, which serves solely to bring to the surface fruitless and disturbing selfishness. Steadfast visionaries of the same destinies and of the same achievements, to accomplish their transcendential mission in history, the people of America must live a life of loyalty and of moral vigor, recognizing the respective progress of each, duly consecrating the merits of those who have first succeeded, and setting them up as models, as examples and as sources of encouragement for the action of the others who follow in the rear, strenuously struggling forward, without measuring distance or being halted by obstacles.

The history of the centuries has perhaps never witnessed a possibility equal to that presented by the American continent for the realization of the old and noble longing for human solidarity.

Many distinguished spirits have cherished, at different times and in different parts of the continent, the thought of a close international union among all the countries of America. The efforts made to bring this thought to realization are a mystery to no one. But you, better than any one else, know that in republican nations it is only the ideas which have become rooted in the clash of public opinion, that acquire the dynamic force necessary for the policy of governments to produce all its effects. Since the periods of our respective political emancipations, Pan-Americanism has been a latent idea in all the peoples of the continent. It has become crystallized from time to time in the councils of governments, and in Universities and in Congresses has been the subject matter of more or less brilliant philosophical or political speculation. It is to be found also in the sentiment of the Pan-American masses as a vague longing, but still it lacks the necessary consistency to permit its opinions to be clearly defined and to combine them into a political force capable of bringing to fruition the noble and patriotic efforts which men of government, all over the continent, are at the present time putting forth.

With my convictions as a Pan-Americanist, I believe in the advantage of emphasizing at any hazard that definition. There must be cleared up in all minds the notion of the practical convenience for all countries of America to be found in a policy of continental solidarity which, founded upon the base of common institutions, may allow the destinies of each to be worked out without the disturbances provoked by antagonistic interests struggling for a predominance which sooner or later leads to the use of force. It is necessary that all of us be convinced of the existence of a continental aspiration, of an aspiration which can be fulfilled only by the effort of each nation in the full exercising of its undisputed and indisputable political sovereignty, applied spontaneously and wholly to the realization of the common task. The progress which time and education may produce in social and political ideas or in the exercise of republican institutions by each of our nations, little by little will perfect the work and emphasize the efficiency of our action.

It is necesary to bring to the conviction of the Pan-American masses the idea that the national sovereignty of each country is not subject to interpretation by the others, that its exercise is controlled solely by constitutional responsibilities or by the rules established among civilized countries by international law. Finally, in the concert of the various capacities as well as in that of the achievements of the different nations of the continent, it is necessary that the attainments of the greatest be taken as a common attainment, that the capacity of the richest be promoted as a common capacity, that the fruitful activity of the industrious be encouraged as a common quality, and, finally, that the mental and moral energies of each beconsidered and respected and valued as a common and consistent patrimony of all. In a word, it is necesary to bring about a pathological normality by reducing the consequences of the hypertrophy of national personality from which some of them may be suffering, and by removing the feeling of distrust and annoyance which might be produced in the minds of the others by indiscreet manifestations of an egotism which does not coincide eitner with moral vigor or with the conveniences of a fruitful association.

The day when the public spirit of each of the nations of America becomes imbued with the feeling of absolute tranquility with which they can devote themselves to the organization of the administration of their territorial patrimony, without being disturbed by the fear of an attack; the day they can dedicate to practice within their relative political capacities the republican institutions under the protection of which they are organized, and to exercise their political sovereignties under the sole control which constitutional limitations or the sanctions of international life impose, on that day, gentlemen, we shall be able to say that the idea of Pan-Americanism has triuumphed, that peace and tranquility and the greater efficiency of common action by the continent have been defined and that the republican form of government, up to the present time, still an experiment more or less successful, has become consecrated definitely as the most efficient political instrument for the realization of the welfare of peoples through the virtue of our continent and for the benefit of the world.

In the meantime, upon those of us who directly or indirectly share the responsibilities of the guidance of our respective countries is imposed the arduous but fruitful task of intensifying our efforts toward the crystallization of that sentiment of true Pan-Americanism in the thought and in the opinion of all peoples, until the advantages of moral and social solidarity shall define the American continent and its civilization as the most perfect expression of an international life founded on the exercise of the highest principles of justice and right and reciprocal tolerance, placed at the service of the permanent interests of mankind.

Senators and Representatives of Pennsylvania, I must now conclude, but not without reiterating to you my profound gratitude for the very high honor you have bestowed on me on this day. I receive it as a mark of homage to my country, where the marvelous development of your culture and of your progress in every branch are acclaimed with that sincere enthusiasm, aroused only by admiration based on deepest sympathy and friendship, and where, finally, we got the expression of the principles on which the presetn solid foundation of our political structure is built. I shall therefore cherish among the most gratifying recollections of my life this day on which, in honoring my country, you have also honored me.

ADDRESS OF LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR M'CLAIN.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR McCLAIN. I am sure that I voice the sentiment of all of us when I say that the instructive, patriotic and inspiring address of Ambassador Naon prompts at this time from us the expression, may the purposes he so eloquently advocates be achieved; may his dream come true and a closer union of his people and our people in things social and commercial result in producing the most powerful agency for human welfare and guarantee of peace that the sun has ever shone upon. (applause) Among our own people and upon this platform we have a gentleman who has had considerable experience with Latin America and is very familiar with the ideals of the people of that part of the western hemisphere. I feel that this occasion would be incomplete if we did not have a word from him—Governor Brumbaugh. (applause).

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH.

GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH. Lieutenant-Governor McClain, Ambassador Naon and my friends, I did not deem it necessary to take your time, busy as you are with the closing hours of your important duties; but I did, after listening to this most remarkable and scholarly address, wish to say a few words to you this afternoon.

Less than two years ago in the Harbor at Antwerp I saw a large vessel loading with machinery for the Argentine Republic and I wondered then, as I wonder now, why it is that a great, splendid Republic like the Argentine should not buy its machinery and conduct its foreign trade with its Sister Republic to the North instead of with the monarchies of Europe; and the fault is not theirs but our own that this is not the case, for when we shall have builded, as we ought long ago to have done, a merchant marine (applause) commensurate with the dignity and industry of our people we shall have this great industrial relation with these marvelous Republics of our Sister Continent to the South; for where the flag of commerce goes there also, in due season, will go the flag of brotherhood and of good will, and of mutual governmental co-operation. (applause).

In the late '60's, following the Civil War, there came from this great Argentine Republic as its Minister to America, a most distinguished man. The leading educator of the Argentine was sent as Minister to our Republic and here, in the discharge of his important international duties Sarmiento gained such an insight into the ultimate destiny of America that he was called back to his own country to become the President of the Argentine; (applause) and the Ambassador will bear witness to the fact that from that day to this the Argentine has had a progress and development and uplift incomparably superior to that of any other Republic in South America. I understand that the distinguished Ambassador who has addressed you so ably this afternoon is about to return to his home land. It may well be that history will again repeat itself and that the man who won his first distinctions in his home country as a great educator and who now is regarded as the dean in scholarship among the Ambassadors of our own Capitol may, like his great predecessor, return to rule over and guide his country. (applause). Whether that be so or not it is our wish, Mr. Ambassador, that it shall be so; (applause) and we can only say to you, sir, in the language of your own people, as you go from us today este manyano, senor for if you come again tomorrow or any tomorrow you will be as welcome as you are welcome here today, sir. (applause).

Had I the time I should like to tell you of that marvelous Republic to the South whose capital city, the third city on the American Continent, the finest city in many ways in the new world, a country of agricultural and of educational uplift, a country in which my friend, Simon, has done such splendid work for you. I should like to talk to you about that. I have not the time, but here is the accredited Ambassador of that Great Republic standing and pleading with us that we shall join hands in developing here a national conscience of mutual co-operation and good will that will put the spirit of republican government into all the peoples of the world, (applause) and surely no message could be more gracious than that good profer of co-operation held out to us with the urgent appeal for our sympathy such as this.

Mr. Ambassador, I am grateful to you, the eight millions of people in this Commonwealth are grateful to you for this message today, sir. (applause).

SENATOR SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that the presiding officer of this Joint Assembly be authorized to send to the President of Argentine greetings in which the Governor is asked to join an expression of the appreciation of the General Assembly and of the people of Pennsylvania of the very eloquent and notable address delivered here today by Ambassador Naon.

SENATOR KLINE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was unanimously agreed to.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. I now declare this Joint Convention of the General Assembly adjourned. The Senators will return to their chamber.

The SPEAKER. The House will be in order.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL NO. 653.

The SPEAKER. The Chair presents to the House the conference report on House Bill No. 653, which will be printed.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. HESS asked and received unanimous consent to report a bill from committee at this time.

Mr. HESS, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1760 (Senate Bill No. 1080), entitled:

An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith by creating assistant mine inspectors defining their duties and providing a penalty for violation thereof

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. HESS asked and received unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1760 (Senate Bill No. 1080), read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1760 (Senate Bill No. 1080), entitled:

An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith by creating assistant mine inspectors defining their duties and providing a penalty for violation thereof

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1626 (Senate No. 928), entitled:

An Act relating to mayors of third class cities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill affects only the third class cities of the State. It has been the law ever since they have been incorporated that the chief executives of these cities should not be permitted to succeed themselves, as it is the law and has been with the chief executives of the boroughs and of the Commonwealth. The third class city bill, which was passed at the last session, providing for a commission form of government did not give the mayors the right to succeed themselves, and this legislation which has been put through this House and Senate this session for third class cities, amending the legislation of the last session, does not give them this right; and the bill was passed finally in the Senate last night and is now on the Governor's table for his approval. Now, I submit to you gentlemen that it is contrary to the best procedure of legislation and the interests of cities of the third class, for the same reason that it is contrary to the best procedure in the the boroughs and in the Commonwealth, and we all know that the bill which went through allowing the burgesses in the boroughs to succeed themselves was vetoed by the Governor. I therefore ask the members of this House to vote down this bill for those reasons.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, there is no reason why the mayor of a third class city should not be permitted to succeed himself. Under the amendments that have just passed the Senate with respect to third class cities, amendments to the Clark act, councilmen are permitted to succeed themselves why should not the Mayor be permitted to succeed himself, if the people want him to be re-elected. The mayor, after four years of service, is better able to serve a second term than he was able to serve his first term, and if the people want him he should be permitted to succeed himself. I therefore ask you to support this bill.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act relating to the holding of a Constitutional convention providing for the submission of the question of holding such convention to the electors regulating the time and manner of nominating and electing delegates fixing their number and compensation providing for the organization and constitution of the convention defining its powers providing for the publication of the Constitution proposed by the convention and for its submission to the electors and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act was defeated on third reading on Wednesday, May 12th, be reconsidered.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the House understands how effectively this resolution was defeated last week; it is the Constitutional Convention Bill. I think we might as well adhere to our former action.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think if the gentlemen of the House will examine lines 150 and 160 they will not pass it in its present form. After reading these lines I think the House will either amend the bill or defeat it.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. SWAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, under the act of 1913, known as the plumber's act, they are given a practical monopoly for iron pipe. This bill simply permits the use of vitrified pipe as well as iron pipe. Vitrified pipe is very much cheaper than iron pipe. It is cheaper for everybody that uses it, for the householder, for the manufacturer and for every one else. If you want to give the plumbers who use iron pipe a monopoly, vote against this bill; if you want to give the people a fair shake, vote for the bill. It is a good bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes seem to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 75 voting in the affirmative and 59 in the negative.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

And the motion was agreed to, and the bill was recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1683 (Senate No. 1001), entitled:

A supplement to an act, entitled "A supplement to an act, entitled 'A supplement to an act, entitled 'An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved the 29th day of April, A. D. 1874, further amending the 12th section thereof so as to permit corporations organized thereunder, either for the purose of carrying on any manufacturing business or for the supply of water, or for the manufacture or supplying of light, to purchase bonds or stock of other corporations of the same character, or to guarantee of interest, or to lease and operate corporate property" approved the 26th day of June, A. D. 1895, correcting errors therein and validating all acts done in pursuance thereof" approved the 24th day of March, A. D. 1905, extending the same to corporations incorporated for the purpose of supplying light, heat and power or any of them by electricity to the public.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1743 (Senate Bill No. 851), as follows:

An Act relating to the indebtedness of municipalities and providing for carrying into operation section fifteen of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania so far as it relates to municipalities

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That obligations which have been heretofore issued or which may hereafter be issued by any municipality other than Philadelphia to provide for the construction or acquisition of water works subways underground railways or street railways or appurtenances thereof shall not be considered as a debt of the municipality within the meaning of any act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing or limiting the incurring of debt or indebtedness or the increasing of debt or indebtedness by any municipality whether with or without the assent of the electors thereof if the net revenue derived from said property for a period of five years either before or after the acquisition thereof (or where the same is constructed by the municipality after the completion thereof) shall have been sufficient to pay interest and sinking fund charges during said period upon said obligations or if the said obligations shall be secured by liens upon the respective properties and shall impose no municipal liability

Section 2 Where a municipality shall issue obligations to provide for the construction of water-works subways underground railways or street railways or appurtenances thereof the municipality may also issue obligations to provide for the interest and sinking fund charges accruing thereon until said properties shall have been completed and in operation for a period of one year and said municipality shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges until after said properties shall have been operated by the municipality during the said period of one year

Section 3 Any of the said municipalities may incur indebtedness in excess of seven per centum and not exceeding ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the taxable property therein if said increase of indebtedness shall have been assented to by three-fifths of the electors voting at a public election in such manner as shall have been or may hereafter be provided by law for the increase of indebtedness by municipalities with the assent of the electors

Section 4 Said municipalities shall have all the rights and powers necessary and needful to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 5 Should any section or provision of this act be held by the court to be invalid or unconstitutional it shall not be held to affect any other section or provision of this act

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. While we have been very much entertained by the manner in which the members have been responding to their names when the roll was called during the last half hour, this, to many of us, is a very important bill and for one I would like to have the roll called from A to W without any interruption, in order that the members may respond to their names clearly and distinctly.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—60.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up at this time House Bill No. 1121 (Senate Bill No. 474), entitled:

An Act authorizing cities to regulate and license certain motor vehicles

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1599 (Senate No. 838), entitled:

An Act to repeal the first third and fourth sections of an act entitled "An Act to regulate places of public amusement in cities of the first class" approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1741 (Senate No. 505), entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended by an act approved the twenty-second day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen page nine hundred and three)

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, if this bill becomes a law it will mean a loss of half a million dollars in revenue a year to the Commonwealth. This is an amendment to the General Corporation tax law, section 21, providing that incorporated stock companies shall pay a five-mill State tax, based on their capital stock. The amendment to the bill is a proviso that those companies paying a mercantile tax shall pay, instead of a five-mille tax to the State, a one mill tax, a reduction of four mills to mercantile tax paying corporations. I am informed that the tax paid into the State under this five-mill tax provision is about eight hundred thousand dollars,—this is a conservative estimate, and that the loss will be something like five hundred thousand dollars per year. There is considerable argument in favor of a reduction of the tax on mercantile tax paying corporations, because they pay a mercantile tax, also a State tax based on their capital stock, but so far as I am concerned, it is so important a question that it ought to have considerable time for discussion and consideration, and in view of the difficulty we have had this year in raising revenue, it seems to me a very inopportune time to reduce revenues.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I dislike very much to take up the time and attention of the House, when the House is in such a mood of levity, but this bill is simply an enabling bill, because the Act of 1889, which was repealed by the Act of 1913, contained twenty-two sections; the repealing Act of 1913 repealed the first twenty sections of the Act of 1889, and this act proposed to re-insert in the Act of 1889 a provision which will preclude some corporations from triple taxation. This bill is sponsored by Senator McNichol of the Senate, and I think the bill ought to pass.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—57.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No.1711 (Senate No. 755), entitled:

A Joint Resolution authorizing the State Board of Education to inquire into and report to the Governor upon the advisability and desirability of the erection at Harrisburg by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a scuitable building for the use of educational departments and interests of the State Government which building shall also serve as a memorial to the founders of the Public School System and former distinguished educators of the Commonwealth and authorizing the State Board of Education to expend out of any money appropriated to it at the Legislative Session of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen such sum or sums as may be necessary to secure preliminary plans and designs not exceeding the sum of five thousand dollars

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, lines 6, 7 and 8, by striking out the following:
"which building shall also serve as a memorial to the founders of the Public School System and former distinguished educators of the Commonwealth."
Amend section one, lines 11, 12, 13, by striking out the following:
"which building shall also serve as a memorial to the founders of the Public School System, and former distinguished educators of the Commonwealth."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instruction of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. As this amendment is simply a strike out, the bill comes up for final passage at once.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1740 (Senate No. 733), entitled:

A supplement to an act entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and to prevent adulteration in drugs and medicinal preparations in the State of Pennsylvania" approved May twenty-fourth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. THEODORE CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill is for the purpose of enabling a person as a registered pharmacist. After investigating the matter I find that the party is not eligible. The case is either misrepresented or something of the kind. I move that it be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1777 (Senate No. 1079), entitled:

An Act relating to police pension funds in cities of the second class and directing such cities to appropriate certain moneys thereto

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Section 10 The provisions contained in section two (2) and four (4) of this act shall not go into effect until the first day of January Anno Domini nineteen hundred sixteen

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, it looks to me as though this bill is clearly unconstitutional and why should we go on and vote upon it? It makes two classes in third class cities clearly on the face of it. It says that in third class cities under a population of twenty-five thousand that certain things shall be done. In other words, the city treasurer shall collect county taxes and in other third class cities he shall not collect county taxes. To my mind it is making two classes out of third class cities. I ask the House to defeat it. It is not constitutional.

Mr. GLENN. Mr. Speaker, this bill was drawn up to apply to same of the smaller third class cities. I think it is constitutional.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw the point of the bill being unconstitutional; however, I will make a motion to strike the bill from the calendar.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion is agreed to and the bill is dropped.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1520 (Senate Bill No. 75), entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand seven hundred and seven of an act entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violaton hereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general speeial or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" approved the eighteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to ask the House to do what I have not asked it to do this session. And that is to reconsider the vote on Senate Bill No. 391 (House Bill No. 1081), File Folio 3519, entitled:

An Act providing for the payment of interest on damages caused by the taking injury or destruction of private property for public use introduced by Senator Patton, which was defeated on May 11th, and place the bill upon the calendar. And if it is the desire of the House after they have looked it over that it should be defeated, why of course I will be satisfied with what the result of the vote may be.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division was called for, 68 voting in the affirmative and 25 in the negative,

And the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think it is only fair to the House that we should postpone it for the present and allow the members to have a chance to look the bill over. I therefore move that the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1755 (Senate Bill No. 783), entitled:

An Act authorizing municipalities owning waterworks or electric light heat or power plants to lease the same with the consent of the Public Service Commission

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the concurrent resolution of the House of Repesentatives as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, May 17th, 1915.

A Concurrent Resolution for the appointment of a Joint Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering thes ubject of legislation and reporting to the General Assembly methods for curing the defects therein now existing.

Whereas, The tendency to correct matters of minute detail by legislation has so increased the volume of bills introduced by the Legislature as to make it very difficult to give proper consideratioin to all proposed legislation, and,

Whereas, At the present session in some instances several separate bills to amend the same sections of existing laws have been introduced, and

Whereas, At the present session there were introduced a multitude of bills relating to and affecting the government of the several cities, boroughs and townships of the Commonwealth, to which the members of the General Assembly could not give personal attention, and these have at each session so increased the legislative duties as to prevent proper consideration of such important legislation.

Section 1. Therefore Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), that the presiding officer of the Senate be and is hereby authorized to appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives be and is hereby authorized to appoint three members who together shall constitute a Joint Committee on Legislation, whose duty it shall be to generally investigate and consider all subjects and matters relating to and affecting the government of cities, boroughs, and townships and report to the next General Assembly any plans to carry its suggestions into effect.

Section 2. The members of said committee shall serve without compensation. They shall be authorized to call upon the Attorney General for legal advice.

Section 3. Said committee shall meet for organization within three months after their appointment. The committee shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and other evidence, at any meeting of the committee, and for that purpose may issue subpoenas signed by the Chairman of the committee and cause the same to be served and executed in any part of this Commonwealth; and if any witness shall refuse to testify as to any fact within his knowledge or to produce any books or papers within his possession or under his control, or shall refuse to appear, the Secretary of the committee shall forthwith report the facts relating to such refusal to one of the court's of common pleas of the county wherein such witness resides, and all questions arising upon said refusal shall at once be heard by said court; if the court determines that the testimony or evidence required by such witnesses is legal and properly competent and ought to be given or produced by him, the court shall make an order commanding said witness to testify and produce books or papers or both, as the case may be, and if such witness shall refuse to testify or to produce books or papers, as aforesaid, in disobedience of such order of the court, then the court shall have the power to order the commitment of such witness to the county jail of the proper county for contempt.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE INSISTS UPON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY HOUSE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists upon its amendments non-concured in by the House of Representatives to House Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 662.

An Act to protect all persons in their equal rights regardless of race color or creed in places of public accommodation entertainment or amusement and providing penalty for violation of the same

Mr. SWAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate, and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

Mr. WEST. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 662.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee of conference the gentleman from Montour, Mr. West; the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Swan, and the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips, to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate; which was read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the Senate, May 18, 1915.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor is authorized to appoint a commission of three citizens to revise and codify the laws relating to the mining of anthracite coal. The Governor shall designate who shall be chairman of said commission. The commissioners appointed shall serve without compensation. The Commission may call into consultation any persons, who may be able to give information that will assist in the work of codification and revision and shall make a full report in writing of its deliberations, together with such recommendations as it may deem proper, to the next General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

Mr. GARNER. Mr Speaker, this is the same old skin game that the anthracite mine owners have been trying to place over on the miners in every Legislature, and in every Legislature they have failed to do so.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to the resolution?

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I do.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over for printing.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objection to the resolution.

On the question recurring.

Will the House concur in the resolution?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker. I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. GARNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 839.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 18, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 839, entitled "An Act establishing a State Commission of Agriculture defining its powers and duties including its powers relative to the Department of Agriculture and the State Livestock Sanitary Board."

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. HARPER asked and received unanimous consent to report a bill from committee at this time.

Mr. HARPER, from the Committee on printing, reported as committed House Bill No. 1769 (Senate Bill No. 1479), entitled:

A Joint Resolution authorizing the printing of the report of the Pennsylvania State Building Code Commission by the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. HARPER asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1679 (Senate Bill No. 1479), read for the first time.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1769 (Senate Bill No. 1479), entitled:

A Joint Resolution authorizing the prinitng of the report of the Pennsylvania State Building Code Commission by the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ asked and received unanimous consent to report a bill from committee at this time.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1753 (Senate Bill No. 698), entitled:

An Act authorizing a charge not exceeding five dollars in addition to six per centum per annum to cover expenses incurred in making loans.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to have this bill read for the first time.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker. I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 17.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker. I desire to call up at this time Concurrent Resolution No. 17.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

Whereas At number two hundred seventy-five of June term one thousand nine hundred ten the court of common pleas of Beaver county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania did on the suggestion of the Commonwealth at the relation of the then Attroney General Honorable M. Hampton Todd issue its writ of quo warranto directed to the late religious society known as the Harmony Society Susie C Duss its last elected trustee John S Duss de facto trustee and the said Susie O Duss John S Duss and Franz Gillman individually and did cause said writ to be served on the Beaver County Land Company the Liberty Land Company and the Commonwealth Trust Company of Pittsburgh trustee

And whereas Answers have been filed by several of the said defendant and a replication has been filed by the Commonwealth

And whereas By the said pleadings it appears that it is alleged by the Commonwealth that the said Harmony Society was a religious society organized in the year one thousand eight hundred and five and which acquired property in Beaver county in the years one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four and one thousand eight hundred and twenty-five and at other times thereafter which property was held for religious uses and that said society at different times conveyed its real property to The Union Company the Beaver County Land Company and thousands of different persons and that said real property was situate not only in Beaver county but in Allegheny county Butler county and Warren county and other counties of this Commonwealth that the said The Union Company had conveyed some twenty-five hundred acres of land formerly occupied by said society to the Liberty Land Company in consideration of the delivery of twenty-five hundred Liberty Land Company's Purchase Money mortgage bonds of the par value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) each that the said society had been dissolved and ceased to exist and that its assets had been in fact illegally distriubted among the members of said society and others and that of right all the property of said society real or personal on its dissolution or ceasing to exist had vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And Whereas It was alleged by certain of the defendants that said society was not a religious society but a trading or business association and did not hold any of its property real or personal for religious or charitable uses or purposes and that its members had at any time the right to dissolve the said society and divide its effects among themselves and that they had so done

And whereas It appears that the pendency of the said litigation directly or indirectly affects or has a tendency to cast a cloud on many titles to real estate in Beaver county and other ocunties of this Commonwealth wherever said society at any time since one thousand eight hundred and five owned and conveyed real property and said litigation has tendency to embarrass thousands of owners of small homes in mortgaging and conveying the same

And whereas It appears that of the purchase money bonds of said Liberty Land Company issued as aforesaid only ten hundred and seventy-six (1076) remain outstanding the residue having been cancelled or retired and that of the said outstanding bonds one hundred and ninety-two ((192) are owned by innocent third parties at no time members of said society and that except as to sixty-seven (67) of said bonds former members of said society have pledged all of said bonds owned by them to secure certain indebtedness of themselves or of said society aggregating two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars and that the interest coupons on said bonds have not been paid for the past six years

And Whereas It appears that the stock of said Beaver County Land Company is owned by former members of said society except as to some two (2) shares thereof and that said stock has been pledged to secure said indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250.000.00) dollars or a portion thereof and that said Beaver County Land Company is seized in fee as appears by the recorded instruments of about five (5) acres more or less of land situate in the former village of Economy Pennsylvania now the Borough of Ambridge Beaver county Pennsylvania and also of certain scattered lots located in the City of Beaver Falls and the adjacent territory in Beaver county Pennsylvania the whole of which is real estate of said Beaver County Land Company and assessed in nineteen fifteen for the purpose of local taxation at an amount not exceeding ninety-seven thousand two hundred forty-four ($97,244.00) dollars and that said corporation owes debts exceeding one hundred seventy thousand ($170,000.00) dollars

And Whereas Counsel representing the Commonwealth and the defendants after many conferences and consideration of the matter involved have agreed upon terms of settlement and compromise of said litigation in nowise prejudicing the positions assumed by the defendants in said pleading and not intended by them to recognize or admit any right of the Commonwealth but only to put an end to protracted litigation and quiet title to real and personal property wherever situate that was at any time held by or for said society By said agreement it is proposed to convey in fee simple absolutely to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania those two certain parcels of land both situate in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge County of Beaver and Commonwealth aforesaid bounded and described as follows to wit

(1) All that certain parcel commonly known as the "Great House Block" bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the northeast corner of the within-described parcel (said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the south line of Fourteenth Street with the west line of Church Street) thence along the west line of Church Street S. 0° 29′ East three hundred and ninety-seven hundredths (300.97) feet to a point at the corner of Church and Thirteenth Streets thence along the north line of Thirteenth Street S. 88° 54′ west three hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (398.85) feet to a point at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Ohioview Avenue thence along the east line of Ohioview Avenue N. 0° 41′ 38″ W. three hundred one and ninety-three hundredths (301.93) feet to a point at the corner of Ohioview Avenue thence along the south line of Fourteenth Street N. 89° 02' 30° E. three hundred ninety-nine and nine and ninety-six hundredths (399.96) feet to a point at the place of beginning

(2) All that certain parcel being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" block bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the southwest corner of said block being the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Fourteenth Street with the easterly line of Ohioview Avenue thence by said northerly line of Fourteenth Street N. 89° 02' 30" E. four hundred and eighteen hundredths (400.18) feet to a point at corner of Church and Fourteenth Streets thence by Church Street N. 0° 29' West one hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point thence S. 89° 06' 30" W. four hundred and eighty-eight hundredths (400.88) feet to a point on east line of Ohioview Avenue and thence by Ohioview Avenue S. 0° 41' 38" E. one hundred eighty-four and nineteen hundredths (184.19) feet to the place of beginning

Reserving however the right of possession to the Beaver County Land Company its successors and assigns until January first one thousand nine hundred seventeen of the former music hall and three wine cellars and buildings connected therewith of the said society in which have been stored certain furnishings and supplies that were of said society which said buildings on said portion the possession of which is intended to be reserved for the said period are erected upon all that certain parcel piece or lot of land in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall Block bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the southeast corner of the within-described parcel—(said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the west line of Church Street with the north line of Fourteenth Street) thence along the north line of Fourteenth Street S. 89° 02' 30" W. two hundred forty (240) feet to a point thence at right angles to Fourteenth Street N. 0° 57' 30" W. one hundred eighty-four (184) feet to a point thence N. 89° 06' 30" E. two hundred forty-one and fifty-one hundredths (241.51) feet to a point in the west line of Church Street thence by said west line S. 0° 29' E. one hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point at the place of beginning

And by said agreement it is further proposed to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000.00) dollars cash forthwith upon the conclusion of the proposed settlement and the entry of the judgment and the order or decree hereinafter mentioned and to pay the record costs of said proceeding

And Whereas In the opinion of the Attorney General the Auditor General the State Treasurer and of counsel for the Commonwealth in said litigation it is for the best interest of the Commonwealth both in its corporate capacity and as custodian of the welfare of its citizens that said settlement should be made and that the title to all of said real and personal property that was of said society should be quieted and settled insofar as relates to the said claim of the Commonwealth

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Attorney General the Auditor General and the State Treasurer be and they are hereby authorized empowered and directed to make said settlement and compromise in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth and to receive for the Commonwealth the deed for said described real property with the reservation of possession as aforesaid as to a portion thereof and to receive for the Commonwealth the said sum of money and thereupon there is hereby released to the said defendants or parties upon which said writ was served and to each and every of them their heirs grantees and assigns all the real and personal property that was of the Harmony Society at any time and not included in the property to be conveyed to the Commonwealth under the terms of such settlement and the said Attorney General Auditor General and State Treasurer are authorized to apply to the court of common pleas of Beaver county to have entered in said litigation such judgment order and decree as will effectually conclude all litigation and forever extinguish any and all title or claim which might or could be asserted by or through the Commonwealth except tax claims if any against all the porperty real or personal of said Society held by the parties to said suit or served with said writ or by any person holding through or under them or said Society

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there be no objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 8.15 o'clock to-night. Is there any objection. The Chair hears none.

Whereupon, (at 5.45 o'clock P. M.) the Chair declared a recess until 8.15 o'clock this evening.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8.15 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1708 (Senate Bill No. 685), entitled:

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the fourteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act relating to the granting of letters of administration upon the estates of persons presumed to be dead by reason of long absence from their former domicile' approved June twenty-fourth one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five providing for the probate of a will of a person whose death by presumption has been established and for attachment of such will to letters of administration granted in the case" by providing for the issuance of letters testamentary to the executor named in such will in the same manner and form as if such supposed decedent were actually dead.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 9 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, representing my constituency I wish to say a word in opposition to the bill now before us. This bill concerns third class cities. It came before this House sometime ago. Representatives of various third class cities were here to be heard on it. After we had several hearings on the bill and certain recommendations were made by the people from third class cities the sponser of the bill, Mr. Walton, very eager to have the bill please the people whom it would affect embodied practically all the recommendations that were made to Mr. Walton. The bill, in that amended form, came before us and passed this House practically unanimously, with no opposition. The people of the first class cities. their representatives here, thereupon withdrew all their opposition to it. After passing the House it went to the Senate and after lying there for about a month, it came back to us, and not in the form it left here but restored almost practically to the position that it was in before it was amended when it was first here.

Now gentlemen this bill will practically take the control of the volunteer fire department out of the hands of the volunteer firemen. We feel in our city, and the city I represent is a city of one hundred thousand population, where we have a splendid volunteer fire department and have had for many years, that this is an infringement upon their rights to manage the department to suit themselves. It gives a few officers the right to dictate who their chief shall be, who their driver shall be, and takes all the control away from the volunteers. We feel that the men who fight our fires for nothing and pay for the privilege of fighting them, should have some say in the management of the department. Last night the representative from Dauphin county. from Harrisburg, tried to have amendments inserted to make the bill acceptable to a number of third class cities. Mr. Walton saw fit to object to those amendments. They are not in here now, and therefor, the bill does not conform to the wishes of the people that I represent. They have been here for two days trying to have the bill amended to suit the firemen of Reading, but Mr. Walton has not seen fit to grant our request.

Another thing, gentlemen, this bill has been recalled from the Governor and amended to exclude Lancaster. If that is not special legislation, or class legislation, I certainly would like to know what class legislation is. This bill will not affect, first or second class cities. nor Lancaster which is a third class city, but it will affect us. The bill is properly constructed, the city Mr. Walton lives in, and it may suit that city—I do not question it—but it does not suit us and I do not understand why we should be compelled to accept a thing we do not ask for, and do not want. Neither do the people of Harrisburg want it. It is true some official may have been here and asked for it, but the citizens of Reading have not asked for it and the citizens that I am representing to-night, are volunteer firemen, representing a membership of nearly five thousand members. They do not want it. and actually oppose it in its present form. They did accept it as it was amended, but not as it is now. The people of York do not want it, that is, the firemen do not, and no doubt there are other cities, and unless Mr. Walton sees fit to put it back in its former condition, why I would not like to see the bill pass. It is with considerable reluctance that I oppose Mr. Walton's bill because Mr. Walton has been very fair with me, and we kind of worked together, and if the bill was in the condition now that it was when it passed this House. I would vote for it, but in its present condition I cannot, in representing my constituency do otherwise than vote no and ask you to do likewise.

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think this is rather out of the ordinary. It is certainly a lack of legislative courtesy to attack a bill recalled from the Governor. This bill first passed the House, in turn passed the Senate, came back to the House, and was concurred in with the Senate amendments. It was recalled from the Governor for a specific purpose. Now as far as the gentleman from Berks is concerned, the amendment he speaks of was plainly unconstitutional, and in order to make the bill constitutional it was amended in the Senate and it provided that they should only pay salaried men in the police. fire and electrical engineering departments. It surely should appeal to the members of this House as amusing to see the gentleman from Berks take the attitude he has on this bill. For a man who has been standing for labor in this House for two sessions, it surely is a strange position. There has no bill probably been introduced or passed in this House at this session which interested more people from a labor standpoint than this bill of mine. But still he comes here and tells you that he is opposed to the bill because of the fear of some sort of infringement it may have on a social organization existing in a city or two, and only a city or two in this class. The city which he himself represents being one of them. The bill in no way affects the volunteer fireman's association, but he tells you that he is afraid that in some way it will infringe on that particular organization Certainly the members of this House will not vote against this bill in order to preserve something purely imaginable in the minds of the people who are opposed to it. I hope, gentlemen, th re is not a man in the House who will change his vote on the bill from that of two weeks ago.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker it is seldom that I rise in this House to take part in the discussion of legislation affecting third class cities, either for or against it, but I know something about this bill. and the reason why it is on the calendar in the shape that it is to-night. This bill originally passed this House and passed the Senate in practically the shape that it is in upon this calendar, with hardly a dissenting vote. It was then sent to the Governor and by reason of the fact that, after it reached the Governor's hands, it was discovered that it would affect the city of Lancaster which is a third class city but a city which has not taken advantage of the act of 1913 dealing with third class cities. Therefore it seemed unfair to pass the bill so as to include Lancaster, and it was under an arrangement with the Senate that I presented this resolution recalling the bill from the Governor for this amendment, so as to exclude Lancaster, because Lancaster was a third class city which had not taken the benefits of the third class city act, passed by the last Legislature. There was to be no other change made in the bill. There has not been. and in all fairness to the sponsor of the bill, in all fairness to the arrangement between the sponsor of the bill and the members of the Senate, there should not be a vote against the bill to-night.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. HACKETT offered the following motion which was twice read and considered:

Moved by Mr. Hackett, seconded by Mr. Glenn, that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1021 (House Bill No. 1697), File Folio 3025, entitled:

An Act to give protection to and regulate the catching or taking or having possession within this Commonwealth of bullfrogs and tadpoles and providing and imposing a penalty for violation of its provisions on page two of to-day's calendar was dropped from the calendar this afternoon be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HACKETT. Mr. Speaker, in the confusion this afternoon, or in other words the demonstration of a comedy here this afternoon, I feel that this bill has been treated badly. This is a very meritorious measure.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BALDWIN. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman as to how he voted on this bill.

Mr. HACKETT. Mr. Speaker, I did not have the chance to vote on this bill this afternoon. I just want to say, gentlemen, that this is a very good bill and I would respectfully request that every member of this House support this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. HACKETT offered the following motion which was twice read and considered:

Moved by Mr. Hackett, second by Mr. Glenn that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1022, House Bill No. 1698, File Folio 3029, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three entitled "An Act to regulate the catching or taking within this Commonwealth of bullfrogs and terrapin and providing a penalty therefor" on page three of to-day's calendar, was dropped from the calendar this afternoon, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HACKETT. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say to the gentlemen of the House that this also is a meritorious bill and I would like them to support this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1768 (Senate No. 793), entitled:

An Act providing for watchers male and female at elections where constitutional amendments are submitted extending right of suffrage and imposing duties on election officers and county commissioners and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STERN. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STERN. My point of order, Mr. Speaker, is that this bill is unconstitutional. Article eight, section sixteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that all election officers shall be legal voters and inasmuch as women have not yet the right to vote they are not legal voters under section sixteen of article eight and cannot become election officers.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not agree with the gentleman on the question of the constitutional provision. The watcher is not an election officer.

The SPEAKER. This being a constitutional point of order the Chair will submit the same to the House. This is for the purpose of debate.

Mr. BALDWIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, the election officers are required, before they can perform any duties, to take an oath. Under the provision of the law that provides for watchers no oath is required whatever and they are not, in the wildest dream, election officers. Further than that, I think that this House can well afford to allow this question to go to a vote without raising the constitutionality of the bill.

Mr. STERN. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Sure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware, whether in his manner of interpretation of the Constitution, he considers an election overseer an election officer.

Mr. BALDWIN. I do not suppose that it is important for the House to have my opinion on the question of election overseers, but I feel at the present time that it might need some little enlightenment on the question of watchers, which is the only question before the House. The question of the gentleman as to overseers is not before the House.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I press my question and would like to read section sixteen. Section sixteen provides that, "The Courts of Common Pleas of the several counties of the Commonwealth shall have the power, within their respective jurisdictions, to appoint overseers of election to supervise the proceedings of election officers and to make report to the Court as may be required; such appointments to be made for any district in a city or county upon petition of five citizens, lawful voters of such election district, setting forth that such appointment is a reasonable protection to secure the purity and fairness of election."

I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware if there is any distinction between an overseer and a watcher.

Mr. BALDWIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that I have to make any explanations to the House on that proposition. I believe every member in the House appreciates that the power of the Court to appoint is entirely diffrent from the question of what duties may be prescribed by an act of the Legislature in the conducting of an election. Everybody knows the purpose of a watcher. The purpose of a watcher being granted to each party is solely for the purpose of seeing that the election is conducted honestly. They perform no duties whatever as relates to election and consequently they are not election officers.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, a watcher in every respect is an election officer because a watcher is appointed by the rules of your various parties and those rules are subject to your Acts of Assembly; and it has been time and time again held that the various parties making their rules bound their constituents in that party by those rules just the same as the Acts of Assembly provides when a watcher is appointed by your party, no matter what party that it may be, he must be a qualified elector under your Acts of Assembly, and be a qualified elector who must have voted in the district or election division in which he resides.

Now, I contend that Mr. Stern is perfectly right because women whom they might appoint are not qualified electors, never having voted, and therefore it would be unconstitutional, Mr. Speaker, to appoint such women by any party to represent them at the polls as qualified electors and as watchers.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me strange that the Legislature would give any man who may choose to be a candidate, the chance to make the election officers. It is ridiculous to argue from such a standpoint. The statutes now provide that any candidate can name a watcher in his interests. Do you pretend to say to me that a candidate has the power to create an election officer? Of course, he has not. Then that was never in the minds of the Legislature that the man who choose to be a candidate for an office should have the power to appoint an election officer. That question, I did not presume was worthy of discussion, and I think the House at least ought to leave that question to the Supreme Court,which is the only body that can make a guess that is worth guessing. To my mind it is foolish for the people of Pennsylvania to go on record as saying that the statutes of Pennsylvania allow any man who wants to be a candidate, to have the power to appoint election officers. The power is extended under the election laws that any candidate can name his watchers.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like to ask the gentleman whether this House was made up of journeymen and we had no legal talent here to decide the constitutionality of bills, who then would decide?

Mr. REYNOLDS. In answer to the Lord of Skiboo, I desire to say that I do not know, but I think I would leave the constitutionality of any act to the Lord of Skiboo.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, as I interpret the gentleman's reply to my interrogation, I think the courts of this Commonwealth are the proper parties to which to leave these questions to decide; therefore, I think it is a question that should be left to the House to vote upon whether or not we have women watchers at our polls.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Sure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether it is the opinion of the gentleman from Delaware that a citizen of New Jersey or the State of Delaware, or of Maryland, or any other State of the Union would be entitled under similar legislation like this, to act as a watcher?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my answer to that would be that it is evidently manifest that the Legislature does have the right to say who shall be watchers. There is no constitutional provision on the question, namely: if the Legislature saw fit, in its wisdom, toprovide for a man from New Jersey to be a watcher, I do not believe that the Constitution contravenes.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say just a few words concerning the pertinency of the point of order raised by the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern. I believe that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, is in perfect order in calling our attention to the constitutional mandate on this question. All men must be equal when they meet together for the purpose of casting their votes in an election, and no one who fails to have an interest in the election can, under any circumstances be expected to take part in the election which is being conducted. If this were not true, it would be in the province of our courts to send for men from the State of New Jersey, and the State of Delaware, and Maryland or California, and endow them with the right to sit in judgment upon our constituency in the State of Pennsylvania.

If a man has no right to vote then he cannot be a qualified watcher because he ceases to have a proper qualified interest in the election which is being conducted. Therefore you have got to start with the basic principle first of all, unless you have a right inherent in yourself to take part in the election being conducted, you certainly cannot be presumed to sit in judgment on those who have a constitutional right so to do.

I am going to take no part in the discussion of this question so far as the merits may be concerned, but I do believe that as men, whether we be lawyers or laymen, we are bound by our constitutional oath of office as members of this House, to vote intelligently and, not wait for the Supreme Court of this State to tell us whether our legislation is good or bad. We are presumed to know the Constitution of our Commonwealth and we are presumed to bring into the discussion of all questions that intelligence that God has given us to properly decline these questions in a manner which befits ourselves, and not ask some one else higher in authority and beyond our authority to do so for us.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr Speaker, both the State of New Jersey and the State of New York recognize this right. The gentleman from Philadelphia argues that where there was an interest we had the right to presume they should be there. Now, every one knows there are a number of ladies in the State of Pennsylvania who are intensely earnest on this proposition. We know that it cannot be possibly presumed that they do not have an interest., Now, don't let us evade this proposition. Let us don't go and whip around the stump, and by some subterfuge decide this question in a way that we can escape the responsibility.

We know very well that no matter what our judgment might be on a Constitutional question, it is, at the very best, a very close shave whether it is or not. Under such circumstances the Legislatures in the past have always allowed questions of that character to go to the Court of final resort. Let us brush the constitutional provision aside and let us go to the bat like men.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, it is not my purpose to discuss the constitutional question—.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the only question before the House is the quetsion of constitutionality. If the speaker does not desire to discuss that question, he is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman's point of order is not well taken. The gentleman has not proceeded far enough for the Chair to decide whether or not he is going to speak on the question before the House.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia had permitted me to finish my remarks, before the interruption, perhaps he would not have made the interruption. I was about to say it was not my purpose to discuss the constitutional question raised here in its technical sense. But this is an important question that is before this House, and no one knows better than my friend, who graces the Philadelphia bar, of the elasticity of that Constitution which he is now calling to the attention of the members of this House. No one knows better than he that constitutional questions raised upon acts of Assembly in the lower courts have been decided one way, only to be reversed upon their consideration in the appellate courts.

Now, I think, with the gentleman from Delaware, that it comes with bad grace for any man, a member of this House, to stand before this body and attempt to wipe off this calendar a proposed piece of legislation of the importance of this, upon a mere technicality, and I think that the men of this House have not lost their sense of chivalry, that is well known among American manhood to abide with his decision upon this constitutional question, but will support those of us who are in favor of having this bill go to a vote on third reading, and therefore I hope this House will vote down the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to no man in the sense of chivalry and in the sense of the duty I owe to the weaker sex, but I say we are here as representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and we are bound by our Constitution, and whether it suits my friend or not, this Constitution is the one from which I have read, and is the official book of the State of Pennsylvania, and I desire to read further, Mr. Speaker, to show that watchers and overseers are the same; that no watchers can be appointed unless they are qualified electors, as section sixteen of Article VIII of the Constitution requires.

The Act of 1903, section one, Pamphlet Laws 213, provides that "each party which has by its primary meeting, caucus, convention or board, sent to the proper office a certificate of nomination, and each group of citizens, which has sent to the proper office a nomination paper, as provided in sections two and three of this act, shall be allowed to appoint three qualified electors, who must be three electors residents of the division in which they are authorized to act as watchers in each voting place, without expense to the county."

Mr. Speaker, that ought to settle the question of the constitutionality of the question.

On the question recurring,

Shall the point of order be sustained?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. W. H. Wilson and Mr. Baldwin.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the point of order was not sustained.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, without committing myself upon the subject of woman's suffrage, I want to observe very briefly if the gentlemen of the House will permit, that the matter, now before the House, is of more than usual interest, and in view of the fact that the question of—Ladies' Suffrage—has been considered of enough importance to occupy the attention of two Legislatures of this Commonwealth and to obtain a substantial majority in each one of those sessions of our representative body.

In view of these facts, and despite what some gentlemen may say to the contrary, I believe this bill ought to pass this House with a majority at least as large as the vote received by the suffrage amendment when it was last before this House.

I want to give you my reasons why I have come to this conclusion. First because the question of suffrage to be decided this coming November is and should be of vital importance to all those ladies who are interested no matter upon which side of the question their interests center.

There is a mighty interest in this question or there never would have been sentiment enough around to force this suffrage resolution through two successive sessions of this House.

I am very sorry indeed that this question cannot be settled at the polls by those most interested—The ladies themselves. In view of the fact that this cannot be, and that the question will be settled by the votes of the men of this State, thus not giving to those parties most concerned a direct opportunity to express their wishes in this matter there must be a proxy representation if you please whereby they can make there wishes known. Only through the justice of their cause and their powers to persuade some one to vote their convictions will they be able to wage their fight.

I believe I express the convictions of a majority of the gentlemen of this House and the manhood of this State, when in view of what I have just said. I make this statement. That it is only fair, that it is only right and just that we, as men, give to the ladies at the coming election, the same privilege that we, as intelligent men, would most surely demand of them if the position was reversed.

Gentlemen, have said that they do not want the ladies at the polling places; that it is no place for decent woman. That is there last argument that any gentlemen should think of offering as an excuse to vote against this bill. For if these voting places are so rotten, so debasing that tney would blacken our ladies, then permit me to observe that they are places unfit for a gentleman to enter as well.

On the contrary, let me state that if we pass this measure the result will be that we as men, with red blood in our veins, will see to it that these voting places are cleaned up; that decency prevails; that the ladies, irrespective of their opinion, get a fair and square deal. Gentlemen, let us play the game square with ourselves, and the ladies of this State.

Let us pass this bill.

Mr. W. H. WILSON Mr. Speaker, I am not going to take any more time on this question than in my judgment is absolutely necessary. I do not think that this is a question which should be treated with levity. As I said repeatedly on the floor of this House the platforms of the dominant parties in this state have declared in favor of submitting the question of woman suffrage to the Commonwealth. The parties have kept that pledge. Now the only purpose of this bill is to do that which has been done in other states, where the same question was submitted to the people. Now, in all fairness to this proposition this bill should receive the support of the members of this House. As was stated to this House in the previous discussion of this measure any candidate that goes before the people for them to exercise their right of suffrage in supporting him or voting against him is entitled to have watchers at the polls. Now this State of Pennsylvania does not want to take a step backward on this question, and it is only fair when a question of this importance is submitted to the voters that those in favor of it should be entitled to have their watchers at the polls. If you do not give them this right, then you are going to say to the people who are in favor of woman suffrage that we are afraid of the outcome of this question. We are going to place the political parties in this state upon the stand that we fear the result, and we are going to open ourselves to serious criticism. Now what the voters of this Commonwealth do with this matter when it comes before them is another question. The support of this measure does not in any wise bind any man who votes for it to support woman suffrage at the polls. But in all fairness to this proposition the members of this House should support this bill.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker I dislike very much to cross swords so many times in one evening with my genial friend from Philadelphia, but this question, if directly viewed shows that the women who ask for the suffrage at the hands of the men of this Commonwealth want to get into politics before they have the right of suffrage, and while the constitutionality of this question has been decided in the negative, yet that very same fact ought to uphold every man who voted against the constitutionality of this measure in the vote that he should take up on this bill, as it is now before this House. And so, Mr. Speaker, I desire to reiterate that this bill even if it passes is unlawful and untenable according to the provisions of our constitution and it ought to be voted "no."

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House if you would just read this bill, it does not necessarily follow that women shall be appointed watchers—it does imply that their interests can name watchers. If the Supreme court of the State shall decide that the bill is unconstitutional in so far as it applies to women watchers, it will give them the opportunity at least to name male watchers. Now all parties through their county committees today name watchers at the general elections, and at primary elections the candidates themselves can name watchers. Now, in my judgment, we should not make a mistake, and we do not want to be in a position after the election of having it said in this State that we do not give a fair count and did not have the opportunity to have someone there to make the count in their interests, even if the ladies shall be decided against by the Court.

Now, as a public proposition, my friends, I want to say to my democratic friends, as a matter of policy, of public policy as a matter of letting the world know that the politics of Pennsylvania fears no count or no investigation, but it will be construed, and I want to say it to my own party, that it will be construed in the eyes of not only the people of Pennsylvania, but the people of the United States, it will go broadcast all over the land, that the Legislature of Pennsylvania is not willing to allow this interest equal representation, equal guarding of the ballot. It is fair; it is right; it is what we decided should occur at all previous elections. The bill providing for watchers is practically an old one in Pennsylvania. No one has ever said anything against it, and now we are going to go on record, are we—no, we are not—as to objecting to have a party in equal interests have their representative at the polls as we have ours. Fairness in that which we ask for ourselves demand that we support this bill.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, three weeks ago, when a local question was before this House relating to conditions in towns in which I live, I made this statement, that when a matter was brought before the House that affected the particular towns in which you lived that it was my duty as the representative of that vicinity to see we are in a position to favor such a measure. Tonight I go one stride further than that when I say that which affects the very portals of the home in which you live, I say it is my duty as an American citizen, as a man, to explain to you why it is necessary to vote in opposition to this bill. The little woman who rules the home in which I live is opposed to woman suffrage, and I thank God to-night that I am wedded to a mother and not a suffragette. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that when it comes to me to decide between the little woman that went down to death's door to give to me those children that have brought so much comfort into my home, and between that and the suffragettes, what is my duty? Vote in favor of the little woman in the home back in Armstrong county or vote in favor of the suffragette who has been here lobbying for the last five months? I leave that to you, gentlemen. I want to say to you further than that, if the suffragettes had ever a chance of winning this Fall, it seems to me they have taken away even the famous hope of victory when they have had introduced into this House this present measure that questions the integrity of every American citizen and every voter in Pennsylvania. There is not any danger of the vote not being counted correctly, and if there is any lobbying to be done let them do it outside the polling place, for we have in the election laws here in the State of Pennsylvania a law that provides that each party and each organization can have three watchers, qualified electors. You will find it in the election laws in Smull's Handbook; and now we have before us here a bill that says in this particular election we must have two watchers, either male or female; and it does not provide in this bill before us to-night that the act already on the statute books shall be repealed. Which act then are we this Fall going to work under; the one that says that we must have three watchers, qualified electors, or the one which we are about to vote on now. I say it is not a fair measure. It is not properly drawn. We could raise the question there as to whether it is a constitutional right or not, but we don't want to do that. We want to face the question fairly and squarely, and for that reason I want to give you my reason, as I have, for not supporting the bill.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by a number of members.

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes that the debate is at an end and if the gentleman will withdraw his motion the roll will be called.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

PRESENTATION TO HON. HENRY GRANSBACK.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, in the course of our public careers we have sometimes pleasant duties to perform. I can look back in the time past, for almost four score years, and I can see in my imagination a happy family in that part of the great city of Pennsylvania, known as the Northern Liberties, where the stork had made its appearance in that household, and a tiny piece of humanity started on the road of life.

It is not a great distance looking backward, but it is a long way when we look forward. I can imagine the father and mother of that happy household, watching that tiny piece of humanity grow into childhood, into boyhood and into manhood. In looking back over the pages of American history I can see a great nation threatened with a Civil War. The President of our country asked for men to defend the colors and I can, in my mind's eye, see the anguish in that household when that boy, in the bloom of youth and with the fire of ambition in his eye, and patriotism swelling up in his bosom, shoulder his musket and bare his breast to the bullets of the common enemy of this great Republic.

And then I can see him coming home again to that household which had been languishing in the midst of gloom for a period of four of the most trying years that a great nation has ever known. But again I can see that youth entering into the activities of the then great and growing city, the metropolis of the great Keystone State of Pennsylvania.

Years rolled on, and 1895 was marked up on the pages of the history of the State of Pennsylvania. The people in and around the section of that great and beautiful city had been casting around for a man who was capable, a man who could be trusted, through the integrity of his previous life, that had moulded a character that entitled him to the consideration of his neighbors, to be sent to the halls of Legislature of one of the greatest and grandest States of this great Union.

It was at that time that I first became acquainted with this noble character, who had done so much that liberty and our nation might live. I can see to-night in the legislative halls no other that served in the session of 1895. I made the friendship of that man; I liked him from the first time I ever saw him. I have seen him serve for a score of years in that trusted position. I know of no man within the borders of our State who today has a higher respect and regard from his constituency than the gentleman I have in mind.

I have the honor to-night to present to this old Roman, that by his years of service for his people and the interests of his State during that long period of a score of years in the legislative halls,—no man has ever stood higher in the estimation of his colleagues and it is only fitting that the members of the sesison of 1915 should present to this old Roman, who has not only served the people in this House, but who has also served the people in the other branch of this legislative body, and it is indeed with pride,—indeed it is one of the happiest moments of my life, that I can present to him a token which indicates the fidelity and the faith that those associates of 1915 have in the Honorable Henry Gransback, from the City of Philadelphia. (prolonged applause).

At this point Mr. Baldwin presented Mr. Gransback with a cane and a large basket of flowers.

Mr. GRANSBACK. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, I can only say I thank you, but I think the gentleman from Delaware has overdone it.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1709 (Senate No. 686), entitled:

An Act to amend section five of an act entitled "An Act relating to the grant of letters of administration upon the estate of persons presumed to be dead by reason of long absence from their former domicile" approved the twenty-fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five by authorizing the several orphans' courts of this Commonwealth to accept refunding bonds from the distributees without sureties in certain cases

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1748 (Senate No. 1047), entitled:

An Act providing for an giving power to the board of trustees or managers of cemetery corporations in this Commonwealth to improve keep in order clean and fence cemetery and generally take care of the lots in said cemetery by providing money and means for such improving keeping in order cleaning fencing and generally taking care of the lots in said cemetery corporation by assessing lot owners their pro rata share of such general up keep and collecting the same

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state to the House that I have examined this bill with some care and find that it is wholly impracticable in its provisions. It provides for the assessment of the cost of keeping up cemetery lots, not in incorporated cemeteries, but in graveyards, by assessing the cost upon lot holders. In most cases the lots have not been used for a long time; the people that owned them are dead and gone and the families are scattered. It would not do any good in the world to pass this bill and therefore I move that it be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MESSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1718 (Senate No. 984), entitled:

An Act authorizing William C. Deitrich a resident of Indiana township County of Allegheny to bring suits in the court of common pleas of Allegheny county against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. NEIDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the maker of this motion?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how he voted on this bill.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1619 (Senate No. 787), entitled:

An Act providing that hereafter proceedings in equity may be commenced without first filing a bill in equity by the issuance of a writ of summons which shall be issued by the prothontary in the form prescribed by law for writs of summons in personal actions of law and describing the cause as a proceeding in equity and unless and until otherwise provided by the Supreme Court equity rules such summons shall be returnable and shall be served as writs of summons in personal actions at law are returnable and are served

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY HOUSE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House of Representatives to House Bill No. 627, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania

And has appointed Messrs. Vare, McNichol and Buckman, a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee), on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House adhere to its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 627 and appoint a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate already appointed to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 627.

The SPEAKER. On the part of the House, the Chair appoints Messrs. Woodward, Walsh and Stern, a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate already appointed in relation to the differences existing between the two Houses on said bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 670.

An Act making an appropriation to the Glen Mills Schools situate in the Eastern District of the Commonwealth to defray the expenses of erecting and furnishing a school house for the enlargement and improvement of the sewage disposal plant for the purchase of additional land and to defray the expenses of an extension of the sewage water and electric light for the new hospital and for a new fire escape for the assembly room in connection with the Boys' Department.

with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4 by striking out the words "thirty-eight" and inserting the words "fifty-five." Also insert after the word "thousand" the words "five hundred." Also strike out "($38,000)" and insert in line 5, "($55,500)".

Amend line 9, by inserting the words "for the purchase of additional land" before the word "in"

Amend line 15, by striking out "twenty-five" and inserting "thirty-five." Also strike out "($25,000)" and insert in line 16, "($35,000)."

Amend line 17, by inserting "Provided That of this sum two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) may be used for the purpose of transforming the old school house into an auditorium."

Amend line 22, by striking out "ten" and inserting "seven"

Line 23, by inserting "five hundred" and striking out "($10,000)" and inserting "($7,500)"

Amend line 25, by inserting "For the purchase of additional land and making the necessary improvements thereon for the Girls Department at Darlington Delaware county the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) on condition that the officers of the institution provide for a like amount"

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, the amendments are satisfactory.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1121 (Senate No. 474), entitled:

An Act authorizing cities to regulate and license certain motor vehicles

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call the attention of the House to this bill. This is a bill to regulate jitney busses. I believe that the jitneys will regulate themselves, in time, and I feel that there is no need of a statutory law to regulate them at this time. Jitney busses seem to be popular among the people and it is the poor man's luxury. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1757 (Senate Bill No. 1045), entitled:

An Act to validate acts done and conveyances or mortgages made by or to corporations and judicial sales or sheriff's sales had on any corporate obligation or mortgage after letters patent are issued and before the recording of their charters

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordeerd, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. FLYNN in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1763 (Senate Bill No. 466), entitled:

An Act to amend section nine of the act entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, Chief Engineer, Chief Draftsman, Superintendent of highways and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department; and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats principal cities and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll roads forming all or part of any State Highway and procedure therein, providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work to be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining Highways and State-aid Highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State county township borough or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties townships borough and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State aid Highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways, making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," approved the 31st day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven, as amended by the first section of an act approved the 11th day of April, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, entitled "An Act to amend section nine of the act, entitled 'An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, Chief Engineer, Chief Draftsman, Superintendent of Highways and a staff of assistants and employes; by defining the method of taking testimony in proceedings for the condemnation of turnpikes and toll roads; providing for the appointment of stenographers therefor and the compensation of the same, and the compensation of viewers; providing a method whereby the State Highway Commission may at time during said proceedings enter upon and take said turnpike or toll-road and providing a method for compelling the Commonwealth to pay the damages assessed for the taking of the same," by extending the act to include toll bridges less than five hundred feet in length.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker ,this bill has a faulty title. I wish to offer an amendment to strike out several words in the title and ask unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend title by striking out in the last line the words "less than five hundred feet in length"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment is inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. As this amendment is only a strike out the bill will be taken up on final passage.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 18, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling House Bill No. 1189.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. McCURDY. I move to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 1189 passed finally.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agree to.

Mr McCURDY. I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

At the end of line 1 of the title insert the word "except dairy products."

Section 1, line 7, after the word "products" insert the words "except dairy products."

Section 2, at the end of line 2, strike out the words "or other producer.

Line 4, after the word "product" except dairy products."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The SPEAKER (Chas. A. Ambler) in the Chair.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported the following bills has passed both Houses of the General Assembly, and the same being correct the titles were publicly read, as follows:

Senate Bill No. 1079.

An Act relating to police pension funds in cities of the second class and directing such cities to appropriate certain moneys thereto

Whereupon,

The Speaker, in the presence of the House signed the same.

Mr. FLYNN in the Chair.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1793 (Senate Bill No. 805), entitled:

An Act limiting the time within which to begin actions in trespass for malicious prosecution and false imprisonment to one year and conspiracy to three years after the injury complained of

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill purports to reduce the statute of limitations in civil suits for malicious prosecution, false imprisonment and conspiracy, making the limit in the case of malicious prosecution and false imprisonment one year. I think, Mr. Speaker, that it would be unwise to pass this bill because frequently it happens that the criminal prosecution is not concluded until more than a year has elapsed.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

I therefore move you, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1796 (Senate Bill No. 1410), entitled:

An Act prohibiting the furnishing by gift sale or otherwise to minors under the age of eighteen years of rifles air rifles air guns spring guns or any other implements which impel with force metal pellets or shot requiring such minors to divulge where and from whom such rifles air rifles air guns spring guns or any other implements which impel with force metal pellets or shot have been obtained and providing penalties for violation of this act

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this bill is in direct opposition to the hunters' license law, I move you that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1612 (Senate Bill No. 730), entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses describing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof" approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven as amended

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Kuhn.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1780 (Senate No. 692), entitled:

An Act relating to the payment of services which have been or shall be performed for a borough validating the claim therefor under certain conditions and requiring the payment thereof by the borough to the person rendering the services or surcharged for the payment thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this is a bad bill. It provides that boroughs may pay for services rendered irrespective of any authority in the borough to contract for such services. For instance, I can cite a case which might easily occur and which I am informed is the cause for the introduction of this bill. A borough solicitor is employed at a salary and he treats that salary as a retainer and by the connivance of the council he is paid for each individual item of work performed. The auditors surcharged these items and the purpose of the act was to permit the payment of such services irrespective of a contract entered into.

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

I therefore move that the bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1713 (Senate No. 810), entitled:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act to establish a Department of Mines in Pennsylvania defining its purposes and authority providing for the appointment of a Chief of said Department and assistants and fixing their salaries and expenses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I desire to call your attention to this bill. I rather think probably there has been a mistake. The bill now before you is House Bill No. 1713, Senate Bill No. 810. This bill relates to the Department of Mines. I dare say that a number of the members present are not acquainted with the conditions and why we seek at this time an increase for the Chief of this Department. This Department was created in the year 1903, then at a salary of four thousand dollars for the Chief. The State Treasurer was created in the same year, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and Insurance Commissioner, and each receive a salary to-day of from eight thousand dollars to seven thousand five hundred dollars, whereas the Chief of the Department of Mines has never received one cent of an increase. In the coal mining industry of Pennsylvania to-day we mine annually about two hundred and fifty million tons of coal. The Chief of the Department of Mines has under him something in the neighborhood of twenty-seven hundred mines that are in operation; so, gentlemen, we beg that you support this bill increasing the salary of the Chief of the Department of Mines.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 11 All laws or parts of laws inconsistent herewith except as herein referred to be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I believe that if we do not stop for a moment and consider some of this legislation, we probably will arise to-morrow morning and be awfully disappointed. I believe, and I think it is the concensus of opinion of this House, that we all expect consideration for the office to which we are elected, and we do not want this session to make rules and regulations or provisions for the gentlemen who may be our successors in the session of 1917. This provides for an enormous salary raising for some of the officers at the present time, and this bill will do away with the serving or granting of some of the patronage to which we are entitled. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MURDOCK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I offer as a substitute motion that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, now that the House is in order, I will state my question of personal privilege. I was in my seat when I made by motion to drop this bill from the calendar. It was properly seconded by the gentleman from Allegheny, who was in his seat and recognized by the Speaker. Therefore, in due consideration to myself, and to the gentleman who seconded this motion, I demand that my motion be put to the House.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman will state his motion, it will be properly placed before the House.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MURDOCK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, while perhaps being one of the oldest members of this House, I still do not want the House to feel that I want to assume the position of complaining of what has been going on in the House for two or three days, but I know this is the Legislature of a great State, and I do not think it is hardly fair to complain about the conditions, because nearly all the members, myself among them perhaps, have not been conducting ourselves as we ought to. There is turmoil, and the Chair does not know whether the House is joking or not. This is a bill that should not be stricken from the calendar without proper explanation, and no member has properly explained it to the House. I realize the fact that some of you older members do not recognize the fact that there are some features that you might care to retain in this bill in its present form. It is a fact that the gentleman who holds the position in the Senate similar to the position of chief clerk in this House receives a salary of four thousand dollars, exactly what this bill proposes. Every member knows very well that the chief clerk of the House has more to do than the secretary of the Senate. Why not postpone it until to-morrow morning. Think the matter over. You can afford to postpone it until then. You ought not to sweep this aside without careful consideration. You gentlemen will be here to-morrow morning, when you can vote for it or against it, and I really think you ought to postpone it until that time. I would ask my friends to accept a substitute motion to postpone the consideration for the present.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1444 (Senate Bill No. 539), entitled:

An Act repealing section three of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offences in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three as amended by an act approved the ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith

And said bill having been read the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No.1448 (Senate Bill No. 631), entitled:

An Act to provide for the creation by bodies of electors of political parties not otherwise entitled under the law to participate in primaries and elections and giving such parties the right to participate in primaries and elections providing the manner in which such parties may be created providing the manner in which such parties may have the exclusive right to use certain designated names for their parties or policies providing a method of objecting to petitions filed for the purpose of obtaining such exclusive right to use a party name under which to participate in primaries and elections providing for the enrollment of qualified electors so as to entitle them to vote the ballot of such parties at primaries providing for the designation of a person upon whom shall be served notice of objection to such petitions or other notices required by law to be served upon such parties and who shall serve such notices as are required to be made or filed by such parties under the law in the matter of the nomination of candidates providing for the payment of costs incident to objections to such petitions and also for the expense incident to holding such primaries providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and the punishment for certain offences hereunder and providing for the repeal of inconsistent legislation

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1564 (Senate Bill No. 120), entitled:

An Act relating to the State Police force

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed indefinitely.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The ayes appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 24 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 82 in the negative,

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, if you will look over this bill carefully, I don't see that any man could raise an objection. This bill provides that you must be a resident of the State for one year and that there shall be no discrimination against a married man on the force.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote "no" on this bill and I would like to tell the House why. The State Constabulary is being recognized everywhere as being the best organized and the ablest managed and best body of men who face the difficulties that they have to contend with that there is in any State in this Union. Ninety-five per cent. of that force today are ex-United Stats Infantrymen or Cavalrymen. Every man knows that in the hour of danger that frequently arises that the steady nerve of an experienced man in such an emergency is vital to the lives of the citizenship of our State and that that law on the statute books must be so that the man who manages this force has free use of his best judgment to make this force as efficient as possible.

The efficiency and experience of this body of men is important and vital to the lives of the citizens of this State when trouble arises and it will be a fatal mistake if this Legislature should in any way hamper the man who has control of that. This is a body of men that is so important and so vital to the interests of the State. I don't think we ought to pass any legislation along that line. It is only a force of two hundred men. Everybody recognized that the head of such a body of men of such character which involves danger is not the best for married men who have families to support. The State has not provided for the protection of those who have been injured or who have lost their lives in the defense of the lives of our citizenship. Therefore, in my judgment, we should not pass a bill of this character as it is not for the best interests of the people of this State. We should stand for the interests of our people. We ought not to hamper or tie the hands of the man whom we hold responsible for irresponsible men who happen to be under his command.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that a cavalryman or an infantryman holds his residence in the State from which he enlisted during his time of service?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, undoubtedly.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman Did I understand him to say that is the only objection from the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to add that there are many men who would like to get out of the United States service and take a position like this. They are trained men and I want the State of Pennsylvania to have the opportunity to secure these people the very best men for the service. It should not be considered whether they come from New Jersey or Delaware or any other State.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I consider that this is a good bill. I don't see any reason why we should require men to come in from any other State to be placed on the constabulary force in our State. We should take these men from amongst our population consisting of eight million people. I don't see any necessity for taking a cavalryman from Colorado who don't understand our people or our ways. I believe this is a good bill and should be passed.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that under the feeling of this House as it is manifested on this proposition that the honest thing for these gentlemen to do is to introduce a bill and abolish the constabulary. The nibble at it and try to impair its efficiency. This sort of thing they would be afraid to do directly because they would have to answer to the people of this State. Here is a bill that is to hamper Major Groome by preventing him from selecting his own force. It removes from the list of desirable persons those who have served in the United States Army and Navy, and they make the best policemen because they are trained in discipline. I think it is about time to have this sort of a bill voted down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1742 (Senate Bill No. 485), entitled:

An Act to make an appropriation for the improvement of the maritime port facilities of the State of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia and providing for the expenditure thereof and for the appointment by the Governor of a competent engineer to assist and co-operate therein.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4, strike out two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) and insert in lieu thereof five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000)

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1643 (Senate Bill No. 616), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the joint acquisition and maintenance by Pennsylvania and New Jersey of certain toll bridges over the Delaware River.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill appropriates one hundred thousand dollars for the joint acquisition and maintenance of certain toll bridges over the Delaware River, by the state of New Jersey and the state of Pennsylvania. There is no way this money can be used unless similar action is taken by the state of New Jersey. Two years ago a similar bill was passed appropriating one hundred thousand dollars. No action was taken by the New Jersey Legislature and one hundred thousand dollars of the State's money was tied up. The Legislature of New Jersey has had its session this year and has adjourned without taking any action on this matter. This will again result in a hundred thousand dollars being tied up for two years which cannot be used for any other purpose. Therefore I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1636 (Senate Bill No. 6), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Erie County Anti-Tuberculosis Society located at Erie Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the River Delaware and its Navigable Tributaries.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTERS. Mr. Speaker, this bill carries an appropriation of sixty-three thousand dollars and will only be of advantage to one section of the State without being of benefit to any other section, therefore, I move that it be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1570 (Senate No. 258), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Saint Christopher's Hospital for Children of Philadelphia Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?
